

At Still On The Journey Ministries formally Journey to Healing Ministries, we believe that no woman should walk the path of healing alone, especially when the wounds of sexual trauma feel too heavy to bear in silence. Each year, countless women in our community carry deep emotional scars without access to the safe, faith-centered support and resources they desperately need to experience true restoration.

You can help change that in September 2026.

We are offering scholarship opportunities that will cover conference fees, materials, food and provide vital post-conference resources. This will include trauma recovery resource materials, access to ongoing support groups, and wellness care packages, for each woman who attends the Journey to Healing Women's Conference.

Your partnership helps remove the barrier of cost, opening the door to healing, renewed hope, and life-giving community connection. For our inaugural Journey to Healing Women's Conference, every sponsorship dollar allows a woman an opportunity to experience restoration from sexual trauma. Your investment literally expands our capacity to serve more women who are ready for their healing journey.
