WHO IS KP?

Overcoming multiple adverse childhood experiences (ACEs),

I earned my Masters in Human Relations-Counseling so I could understand the brokenness of humanity. Serving non-profits and the federal government in family life education, resilience training, financial and career counseling, and violence prevention, I surprisingly found my calling to "love the unlovable" began by looking in the mirror at the root causes of my own brokenness. Through storytelling, I inspire a compassionate community of world changers who CAN be OVERCOMERS when we CHOOSE to be set free from lies and anchored in LOVE and JOY.

In 2019, I prayed for more trials so I could better understand the sufferings of Christ. The Lord overturned my boat and invited me to walk on water to create LoveJoyCO. Based on visions He gave me many years earlier in Colorado and Turkey, God showed me "To him who OVERCOMES, I will give some of the HIDDEN manna. I will also give him a white stone with a NEW NAME." Rev 2:17. When serving sexually exploited children as a CASA, a five year old boy gave me the OVERCOMER nickname "KP" and declared I could do "ANYTHING" just like the Disney cartoon character, Kim Possible ("KP").

LOVE and JOY are the foundation for ALL I do. After serving the federal government for most of my career, I learned Commanding Officers (CO) determine the course of action, but always report to the Commander in Chief, who we also know as our Father, God. Hence the names: KP LoveJoy and LoveJoyCO.

Keynotes - Workshops - Curriculum - Retreats - Consulting - Content Licensing

LoveJoyCO covers everything from one on one coaching and staff training to professional development and storytelling sessions with teams over 1,000. My framework breaks down life's complex challenges into simple steps that anyone can implement..today. Topics relate to taking authority over lies and living in the truth of how God turns broken stories into our superpower breakthroughs.
