

Executive Protection

Discreet, Professional, and SIRA-Licensed Protection Services

Cambrai Security Services L.L.C. provides executive protection for individuals and families who require security without disruption to their personal or professional lives. Our approach is designed for clients who value discretion, judgement, and consistency over visible presence.

Protection is delivered as a managed service, not a collection of personnel. Planning is based on how the client lives, moves, and interacts, with protective measures adjusted continuously rather than fixed in advance.

Global risk management capability applied with the understanding of private life.

How We Deliver Protection

Executive protection begins with understanding routine, behaviour, and decision-making patterns, not just locations and schedules. Cambrai develops protection models that integrate naturally into the client's daily life, whether that involves business, family activity, travel, or public exposure.

Protective activity is overseen by experienced management and supported by continuous coordination, allowing adjustments to be made quietly as conditions change. The objective is to maintain freedom of movement and personal privacy while ensuring risks are managed without escalation or unnecessary intervention.

A global security group providing discreet, continuous protection for families and residences worldwide.

What This Means in Practice

- ▶ Protection that adapts to lifestyle rather than imposing structure
- ▶ Personnel selected for judgement, social awareness, and discretion
- ▶ Low-profile delivery aligned with the client's environment
- ▶ Clear supervision and accountability throughout deployment
- ▶ Seamless coordination with residences, travel, and events

Executive protection is measured by how little it is noticed, not how visible it is. Cambrai focuses on maintaining control, calm, and continuity so clients can live and work without distraction.

When Clients Engage Cambrai

Clients typically engage Cambrai for:

- ▶ Ongoing personal or family protection
- ▶ Protection during relocation, transition, or increased exposure
- ▶ Support during sensitive business, legal, or public activity
- ▶ Discreet protection for partners or family members

Each engagement is managed individually, with protection scaled and adapted as circumstances evolve.

Why Cambrai Security Services

Cambrai Security Services L.L.C. operates as the private client division of the Cambrai Risk Solutions group, providing personal protection and lifestyle security supported by active operational capability.

The group maintains offices and operating entities across the Middle East, Europe, and high-risk regions, supporting government, corporate, and private clients. This wider structure provides depth beyond most private security firms, including established operations rooms, intelligence support, and experienced security leadership.

In the UAE, Cambrai Security Services maintains a pool of SIRA-qualified personnel selected for judgement, discretion, and suitability for private environments. Protective teams are supported by operational management and an intelligence desk providing real-time updates relevant to client movements and locations.

This integration allows private clients to benefit from the same standards, situational awareness, and operational discipline applied across the group's wider security work, delivered quietly and proportionately to private life.
