At Pahadan's Village - food is not just served - it is prepared with emotions, purity, and the warmth of Himachali homes.

Pahadan's

NOT RESTAURANT FOOD. REAL VILLAGE FOOD.

Food Experience at Pahadan's Village

- Pure home-cooked vegetarian food
- Mostly organic ingredients sourced directly from nearby farms
- Prepared by Himachali village people with warmth and emotions
- Milk from desi cows raised at nearly 7000 feet altitude
- Pure homemade desi ghee from the same source
- Freshly prepared meals every day – no frozen or processed food
- No buffet system, no commercial restaurant-style menu
- Daily meals are announced based on seasonal ingredients and village cooking style
- Guests can always share their food preferences or suggestions
- Traditional slow cooking methods with authentic village taste

Food is generally served in traditional Pital (brass) and Kansa utensils, often covered with natural leaves inspired by old Himachali traditions.

Meals May Include

- Rice & Chapati
