Best Forex IB (Introducing Broker) Affiliate Partnership & CPA Programs 2025

Do you want to get super high lifetime passive income by becoming a Forex IB? Forex affiliation is a business model that anyone can apply.

Doing affiliate marketing in the Forex niche is pretty similar to the other niches. Except for one very important detail. Commissions are lifetime and much higher than the others. All you have to do is be able to see investors' needs and deliver them value.

Forex Introducing Broker (IB) or Forex Affiliate is a partnership program offered by almost all Forex brokers, which allows individuals or businesses to get earnings by referring traders to brokers. Partners (you) will start receiving commissions when referred clients open an account and start trading. Becoming an Introducing Broker is simple and straightforward. Learn all about Forex partnership programs right now, right here.

How much can a Forex Introducing Broker (IB) earn per month?

Forex IB commissions vary by your preferred model. There are two main models which are CPA and Revenue Share. We will give an example of the most common and profitable model which is revenue-spread share.

Let's assume that you earn 10$ commissions (this is average) from 1 lot transaction which is made by a trader who you referred to your contracted FX Broker.

Let's think about 5 traders who opened standard accounts and were funded.

Referred Clients	Deposit	Trading Volume
First client	1000	15 lot
Second client	1500	10 lot
Third client	3000	25 lot
Fourth client	800	15 lot
Fifth client	5000	40 lot

● Number of lots (15+10+25+15+40) * $10 (commission per lot) = $1,050

● Or let's assume, the average trading volume of each five clients is as low as 20 lots per day (trading days in a month) * 10 (5 clients * 2 lots per day) * 10 USD (commission per lot) =

$2,200 🇺🇸

Any Questions

Now let's see the table below in case of you referred more traders:

Number of clients	Average trading volume per day	Forex IB Commission (in a month)
3	2 lot	$1,320
10	1.5 lot	$3,300 🇺🇸
20	1 lot	$4,400 🇺🇸 🇺🇸
40	0.5 lot	$7,040 🇺🇸 🇺🇸 🇺🇸
100	0.8 lot	$17,600 🇺🇸 🇺🇸 🇺🇸 🇺🇸

- Trading volume (lot) of a trader varies depending on Trader personality, Deposit amount and Trading strategy
- Day traders (Intra-day traders) trade an average number of 5 trades per week.
- Long term trades trade an average amount 10 trades in a month

How to get started?

First of all you choose companies that you will promote and then you need to make IB agreements with them.

Meanwhile companies will ask you about how you will reach your clients. Options can be via website, social media, seminar/webinar, face to face communication and such online and offline channels.

In our conversations with brokers, they say that a significant part of their profits are made by IBs. That's why they give so much importance to IBs. Therefore your IB applications will likely be approved shortly.

You will complete the most important step when traders register by using the link provided to you by the Forex Broker (so that it's possible to prove traders registered by you).

In your affiliation panel, you can track your commissions which are automatically added by each transaction that your clients made. When you reach the withdrawal limit you can transfer your earnings to your bank accounts, Crypto (BTC, ETH, USDT, etc.), Skrill, Webmoney or other digital wallets.

No matter how competitive this niche may seem, good work has a snowball effect, it keeps leading to more success! Just keep doing what you are doing. Everything will make more sense with the increase of the commissions and the number of new clients on the IB panel.

How to reach potential traders?

Traders would like to see the pros and cons, general information, real trader experiences while looking for a forex broker. Hence we suggest you focus on reviews and comparisons.

You can shoot videos and write articles to introduce the forex broker and publish them on your website, YouTube channel, social media accounts. Then you can use digital marketing to reach traders. Also Google Ads and email marketing channels are allowed. In addition, you can create groups on WhatsApp, Signal, Telegram. If you have solid finance knowledge, then you can share "forex signals" on each platform.

On the offline channel, you can arrange webinars or forex training seminars. Often, the brokers support face to face event costs, after which you can get attendees to register under your IB account. This channel provides direct and physical contact with the traders so that the registration rate is pretty high.

As a partner, you will be the first to know about the promotions and opportunities offered by the companies periodically, and you can gain new clients by sharing this information on your preferred channel.

Sky's the limit. There are almost no restrictions. Brokers support almost every idea suggested by IBs. Never hesitate to share your ideas with account managers.

The most common partnership models

The commission models offered to IBs may differ from company to company.

- CPA model
- Spread/Revenue Share model
- Hybrid model (CPA + Revenue Share)

In the CPA model, a trader opens an account, when the broker conditions are met, the IB gets a one-time payment up to $800. The condition differs from broker to broker.

Revenue Share or Spread Share model is transaction-based commission model. Affiliates (IBs) make profit by each trade that clients make (regardless of gain or loss). It's the most preferred model because it's for lifetime! Unlike CPA, there is continuous profit as the traders in your network keep trading.

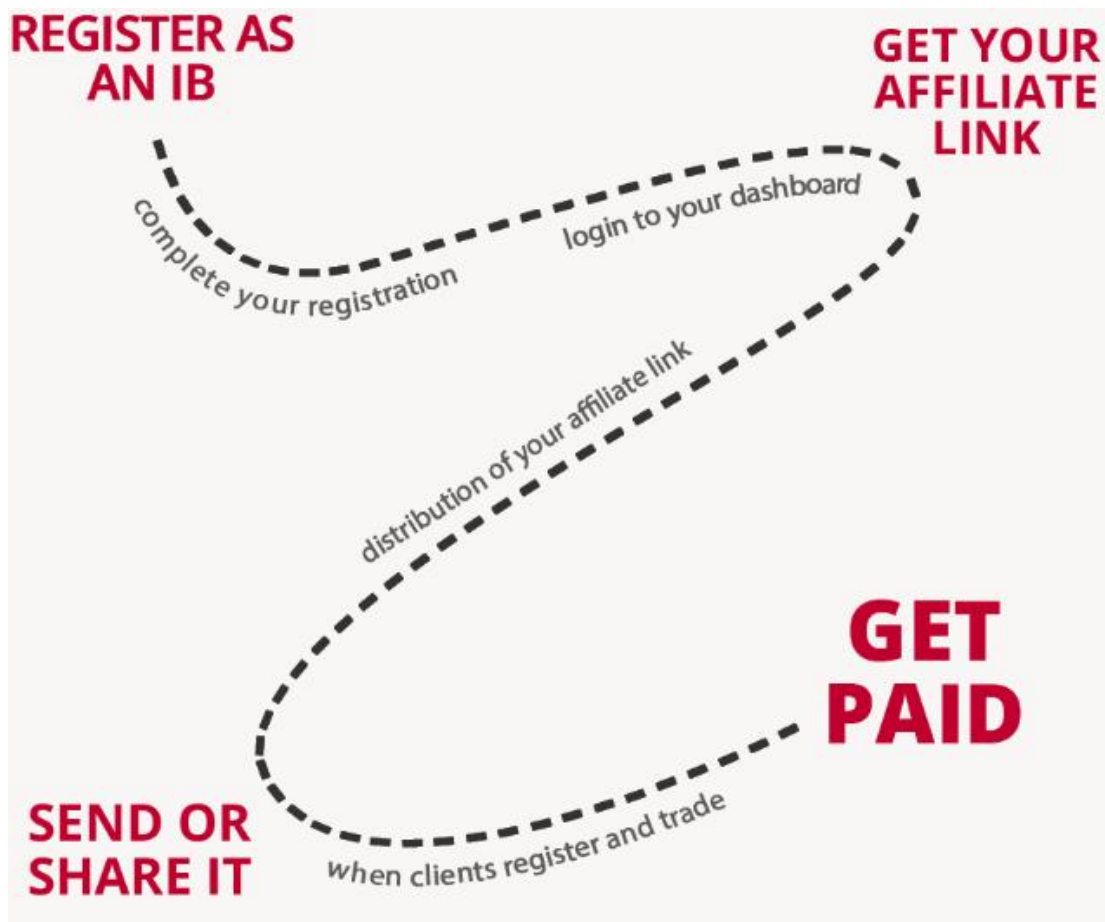

Hybrid is a low commissioned model which integrates CPA and Revenue Share commission models.

According to our experience the most profitable return can be made from the Revenue Share model. While it's hard to fulfill prerequisites of CPA and Hybrid models, there is no prerequisite for the Revenue Share model which makes this model the most preferred and sustainable one.

Key Information and Tips

According to our experience, IBs focus on certain details when they try to make a decision on which brokers to choose and promote.

- Regulations and Partnerships (shows the trustworthiness of the broker)
- Spread rates (traders always tend to find the lowest spread rate brokers)
- Bonus (depending on the country and regulations some brokers offer a good amount of bonus credits to their clients)
- Support (fast, easy and multi-way communication is important)
- Funding and Withdrawal options (important for traders and IBs)
- Platforms (MT4, MT5, mobile and custom apps must be provided)
- Number of clients (if the Forex Broker has more than a million clients, this broker is more appealing for the new traders)
- Minimum deposit (low deposit option is important when the trader wants to try a new Forex Broker in a real account)
- Maximum leverage
- Account types (micro, pro, swap-free, ECN, Copy-Trading, etc.)
- Educational materials (videos, webinars, etc.)
- Trading instruments (markets and products)
- Additional fees

Creating AI-Powered Forex Trading Robots

Develop an MQL5 Forex trading robot that combines the moving average crossover strategy (using 20 and 50 period EMAs) with the RSI indicator. The robot should only enter a long position when the fast MA crosses above the slow MA and the RSI is below 50. Conversely, it should only enter a short position when the fast MA crosses below the slow MA and the RSI is above 50. Implement a trailing stop loss based on the ATR. Currency pair: EUR/USD. Timeframe: H1
