

To Educate. To Support. To Unite.

The Brigade's first purpose is to educate workers by organizing monthly educational presentations which center around Labor and Working Class History and by producing easy-to-read literature for working people.

The Brigade's second purpose is to support workers with aid during strikes, by platforming grievances, and through organizing solidarity actions for workers, both union and non-union alike.

The Brigade's third purpose is to unite workers by breaking down the divisions which the owning class has used to split workers against each other and by organizing regular Community Socials where workers can meet other working people in the community and can begin to build ties of solidarity with one another.

"Ode to a Scab"

By Jack London

After God had finished the rattlesnake, the toad, and the vampire, He had some awful substance left with which He made a scab. A scab is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul, a waterlogged brain, and a combination backbone made of jelly and glue. Where others have hearts, he carries a tumor of rotten principles.

Don't scab.
Don't cross a picket line.
Don't betray your class.

THE CLASS STRUGGLE CHRONICLE

The Class Struggle Chronicle is the publication of The Louisville Workers Brigade. It is a free, worker-run newspaper that circulates both online and physical copies.

The primary purpose of The Class Struggle Chronicle is to offer coverage of working class issues, particularly involving organized Labor, in the Louisville, KY area. We are an unabashedly pro-worker publication, seeking to contribute to the class struggle against the owning class who daily exploits, demoralizes, and oppresses laborers here in Louisville and the world over.

The Preamble of the Constitution of The Louisville Workers Brigade

The establishment of the Louisville Workers Brigade is an outward, physical expression of the rising class consciousness of the working masses and the intensification of the class struggle between this majority working class against the ruling minority owning class. This intensification of class struggle—a result of the brutalized working class standing firm and using its position as the producer of all things as leverage—must be strengthened further.

The only hope the working and oppressed masses have is to organize into a cohesive, united collective—regardless of industry, employment status, race, nationality, sexual orientation, etc.—to oppose the more powerful and resourced owning class. This is the mission of the Louisville Workers

Brigade: to build unity and power among working people, pushing for stronger union contracts, broader union representation, and a return to radical rank-and-file organizing that secures the most gains and victories for our class. We are not separate from the existing trade unions, but seek to educate and empower union members and non-union members alike, so that they can better participate as workers in the economic, political, and social spheres of our community. As workers ourselves, we remain intrinsically tied to and committed to the conditions of the working masses, not only in this country, but in all countries. This is why we dedicate our time, resources, and experience to the aims and goals of this cause.

Only through an unwavering devotion to solidarity with all working people of this world can the workers of all countries fight for their collective empowerment and liberation.
