03 MAX — the horseshoe-shaped curve of the backrest increases lateral back support, resulting in more comfortable seating ergonomics. Boomerang-shaped rear legs. Rounded outer edges of the legs. The chair frame is similar to that of the 03 series, allowing both models to be nicely combined in one kitchen set. Available with the backrest upholstered on the rear side (you can combine two types of fabric and add an accent to the back of the backrest).

Orto — a chair in a minimalist, currently popular style. An elegant, comfortable backrest. The legs are straight, tapering toward the bottom, with outer edges chamfered at a 45° angle. Thanks to the complex shape of the frame under the seat, the chair has a lighter, more airy silhouette — the seat seems to float (levitate) in the air.

Corsa — a backrest of complex shape. An interesting fact: during development, the backrest was called “Maleficent” due to its resemblance to the main character of the film. The legs are straight, tapering toward the bottom, with rounded outer edges. Thanks to the complex shape of the frame under the seat, the chair has a lighter, more airy silhouette — the seat seems to float (levitate) in the air.
