

Jane Burgio

*Author, Speaker &
Life Encourager*

Jane, a retired speech-language pathologist and early childhood educator, is the founder of Grace After Loss—a ministry birthed from her personal journey of grief and grace following the loss of her husband, Joe. With a heart anchored in faith, she creates devotionals, resources, and gatherings that help others encounter the comforting presence of God through life's deepest valleys. Her writing has been described as honest, hope-filled, and rich with Scripture, offering space for others to heal and flourish. She lives in Western New York and is passionate about worship, community, and meaningful conversations.

ENDORSEMENTS & TESTIMONIALS

"I highly recommend Jane's speaking engagements! I have experienced firsthand working with Jane in our Bible Uplift ministry—a daily devotional. Her kindness, compassion, and expertise will bring comfort and peace to all that hear. I am confident that her positive attitude, faith in God, dedication to helping others, and easy-to-work-with nature will be encouraging and inspiring."

Lori P., Murrells Inlet, SC

"I enjoy listening to the (YouTube) messages and felt compelled to share them with others in the same situation. The word at Grace After Loss is always encouraging and full of Scriptural truth. My friends also enjoyed them and were helped."

Tanaya S., Ft. Lauderdale, FL
