eSmart

This week is eSmart week. We have learnt about what it means to be kind online and made pledges to ourselves.

3/4A have some tips:

Never make comments judging people about their looks, because it is mean, hurts their feelings and is unnecessary.

Never be disrespectful on social media because it will hurt someone and adults do find out.

If you be mean on social media, you're not remembering to be a kind person.

People can send what you do online and spread it all over the world.

Things can be reported to the school.

Never post a picture of a friend without permission.

If you are going to comment on something about someone that's a joke, maybe think before you do because it may be something that they feel sensitive about.

Be kind and send love!

Sensory Garden to begin in September

Plans for our sensory garden have been drawn up and we are excited to commence stage one in the September school holidays. Stage one will focus on the retained garden beds below the oval (photographed). We are fundraising towards the whole project with a focus on stage one at the moment. If you would like to donate or know an organisation that could donate please contact the Office.

Star of the Week

Esther Savage - 1/2A

Esther shows our school values everyday. Esther is caring in her interactions with others and is a great friend! Well done Esther, we are proud to have you in our learning community. Esther, you are a STAR!

Achievement Awards

Foundation	Lexy Williams: For her positive learning attitude. Lexy has really shown that she is ready to learn, take risks and extend her understanding. She puts in the effort and takes her time to ensure she is being the best learner she can be. Super work Lexy!
1/2A	Walker Fereday: For the tremendous effort he has been making towards his learning this week. Walker thank you for the valuable contributions that you have made to our class discussions this week. We appreciate you sharing your knowledge with us! Keep it up legend!
1/2B	Zara Crouch: For working so hard on her reading skills and going up a reading level. What an awesome achievement, Zara. You always set a good example for others and demonstrate how trying your hardest really does pay off! Well done, Zara!
3/4A	Hudson Brooks: For his brilliant learning during our fractions and money units. You have listened to feedback, extended your knowledge and helped others. I loved the equipment you purchased for our pretend PE Lesson using your allocated budget. It was a great use of your money. Thanks for always being a delight to teach!
3/4B	Hannah Dean: For her awesome writing, Hannah wrote a mystery story about Mary, who goes missing. She worked very hard, while using some of the strategies that we have been learning, such as sentence beginnings. I love your imagination Hannah, keep it up!
5/6A	Chase Wright: For his super improvement with his writing. Chase has been very focused when working on his information report on seagulls. He independently researched for his information, completed a plan and a draft, before conferencing and revising his writing to improve it. Chase listened carefully to the feedback I gave him and went on to complete a well presented published piece. Way to go, Chase! You nailed it!
5/6B	Caleb Murray: Well done on your achievements working towards finishing your information report. Over the past few weeks, you have been focused on achieving this task and applying lots of the strategies that have been taught about writing a non-fiction text. Keep up the good work!
Art	Miles Farley: Miles can always be relied on to listen, cooperate and work to the best of his abilities. Miles has been working really hard at developing his fine motor skills and is showing pleasing progress. Well done Miles!
