COLOR GUIDE

Paint Finishes

Flat /Matte

Best for: Rooms with uneven walls as it hides imperfections. However, it isn't easy to clean and not very durable. It is a good choice for adults' bedrooms, ceilings, and low-traffic areas.

Lighting: Matte paint is great for rooms with plenty of natural light as well as dimmer spaces, because it diffuses light, helping to hide wall imperfections and avoiding the glare you often get with shinier finishes.

Eg-Shel/Satin

Best for: Bedrooms, living rooms, and dining rooms because this paint can hide some imperfections in wall texture yet is durable enough to be cleaned occasionally.

Lighting: Eggshell works well in most lighting conditions. Its slight sheen can help reflect some light, making it a good choice for moderately lit areas or rooms with some natural light.

Semi-Gloss

Best for: Higher-traffic zones like kitchens, trim, cabinets, and doors because it is scrubbable and durable, but it doesn't disguise imperfections in wall texture.

Lighting: Semi-gloss is best for rooms with low or artificial light. It helps bounce light around a room, enhancing brightness and making the space feel more lively.

Gloss

Best for: Surfaces requiring cleaning and durability. It is the shiniest option. However, this paint highlights surface imperfections so preparation is key.

Lighting: Gloss works well in areas that may benefit from additional light reflection, such as dark rooms or spaces with heavy overhead lighting.
