The LEGO logo is located in the top left corner, consisting of the word "LEGO" in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters inside a red square.

First, dream it. Then believe it. Now build it.

With LEGO® toys, the fun begins in your imagination: the bricks come later. That's what LEGO products are all about. They give you the ability to bring your most amazing ideas to life. Magical trains which toot and turn at your command. Fantastic robots that carry out your secret missions, and basketball players that soar and slam with a simple flick of your finger.

Every LEGO toy is a fantastic new adventure just waiting to happen. Always different. Forever fun.

Four special worlds of discovery. For 0-4 year olds.

Every child is born with the potential to develop and to learn. At LEGO Company we believe that by nurturing this gift through play, we can encourage the learning process. That's why we created LEGO® EXPLORE and the Complete Discovery System – the world's first fully integrated play system for infant and pre-school children. Founded on the guiding principle that every child is unique, and developed with input from leading child development specialists, the Complete Discovery System encourages growth and learning via four distinct 'worlds'. The toys within these worlds will inspire, stimulate and challenge your child's urge to explore through play at different stages in their natural development, allowing you to share with them in the joy of discovery – while having a serious amount of fun along the way!

Hooray! I'm me!

explore being me - discovering who I am and what I can do

For every child, finding out what it means to 'be me' involves learning a whole set of physical and mental skills, many of which continue to develop throughout childhood. While you can't speed up physical development, you can build confidence and offer exciting opportunities for practising new skills. In the world of explore being me, you'll find toys which encourage motor skills, improve hand eye co-ordination and enhance body control. Through play, your child will gain a greater understanding of "Who I am" and "What I can do".

So if I'm me, who are you?

explore together - learning to share and interact with others

Children are primed from birth to develop relationships. Some of the most important lessons to learn include how to interact with others, to share and take turns. Make-believe role-plays are great ways to examine different social set-ups. In the world of explore together you'll find toys which encourage your child to build relationships and to interact with friends and siblings. Whether they play by themselves or with others, children will love the opportunity to develop their social skills.

Young children love to act out stories and role play. Combine sets to create new stories.

explore logic - understanding how things work

A baby who discovers that shaking a rattle makes a rattling sound has entered the world of explore logic – a world inhabited by little scientists who want to investigate everything around them. This baby will soon turn into a toddler who starts every sentence with "why" and needs to understand how everything works. At the heart of explore logic is the recognition of your child's curiosity about the world and the way things work. Toys from this world will prompt your child to ask questions and develop powers of reasoning – from differentiating shapes and colours to understanding the concept of cause and effect. Give children the opportunity to investigate in this way and they'll learn to relish new experiences and rise to every challenge.

explore imagination - expressing my personality and creativity

Throughout their development, children learn different ways to express themselves using a constantly changing set of creative skills. From only a few weeks old your baby will start copying your facial expressions. By the time they've reached school age, they'll have started to express their thoughts clearly through drawing, putting on puppet shows and acting out stories. The world of explore imagination is full of toys designed to stimulate your child's natural creativity, helping to build their self-confidence and teach them to think for themselves.

As part of the explore imagination world, the TheatreStories set encourages children to enact a limitless variety of stories based around a group of colourful and memorable characters, including heroes, villains and princesses. This stimulates creative role-play whilst developing a range of motor skills and eye-hand co-ordination. The use of sound effects helps create a complete audio/visual experience that your child will be keen to share with others.

Perform shows and stories using 6 characters with changeable costumes, props and 4 themed backdrops, 8 special sound effects, ideal for role play.

STAY ON THE TRACK

The Track System is great fun. Build your own track and go head-to-head against your friends. Just like racing in the real world, coming first out of the chicane is crucial. But much more can still happen! Are you able to stay on the track until the finish line?

Try out this long stunt track. Jumps, traps, double/single tracks and suspense to the very end. It's great fun to compete with a friend. Using the extra, special tyres in this set, your other small LEGO Racers (set nos. 4582, 4583, 4593, and 4594) can be raced on this track as well. 4588 Off-road Race Track From 7 years. £ 39.99

Use the additional special tyres included in the off-road Race Track set on your collection of small LEGO® Racers, so they can race on the Tracks as well.

Children need the freedom to investigate, experience and express themselves in their own world – a world filled with possibilities. What they need is space in which to be creative and imaginative. LEGO® WEAR provides a functional quality that can withstand the rough and tumble required by most children. The new collection has gathered inspiration from popular LEGO themes such as LEGO Racers and BIONICLE™ and then combined this with a design that makes it fun to be a child and wear cool clothes.
