

Strattia

Risk Advisory & Corporate Intelligence Consulting

The rules haven't changed. The risks have.

Challenges

Information has never been more available – and yet, making confident decisions has never felt harder.

At Strattia, we cut through the noise. We take scattered signals, connect the dots, and turn them into sharp, actionable intelligence, so you can move with clarity instead of guessing in the dark.

We don't just show you where the risks are. We help you get ahead of them.

What's keeping your organization exposed?

- Regulatory shifts that outpace your planning cycles
- merging threats: organized crime, corruption, political volatility
- Blind spots in your partner and vendor ecosystem
- Crisis response that's reactive instead of proactive
- Security, compliance, and continuity strategies that look good on paper, but haven't been stress-tested

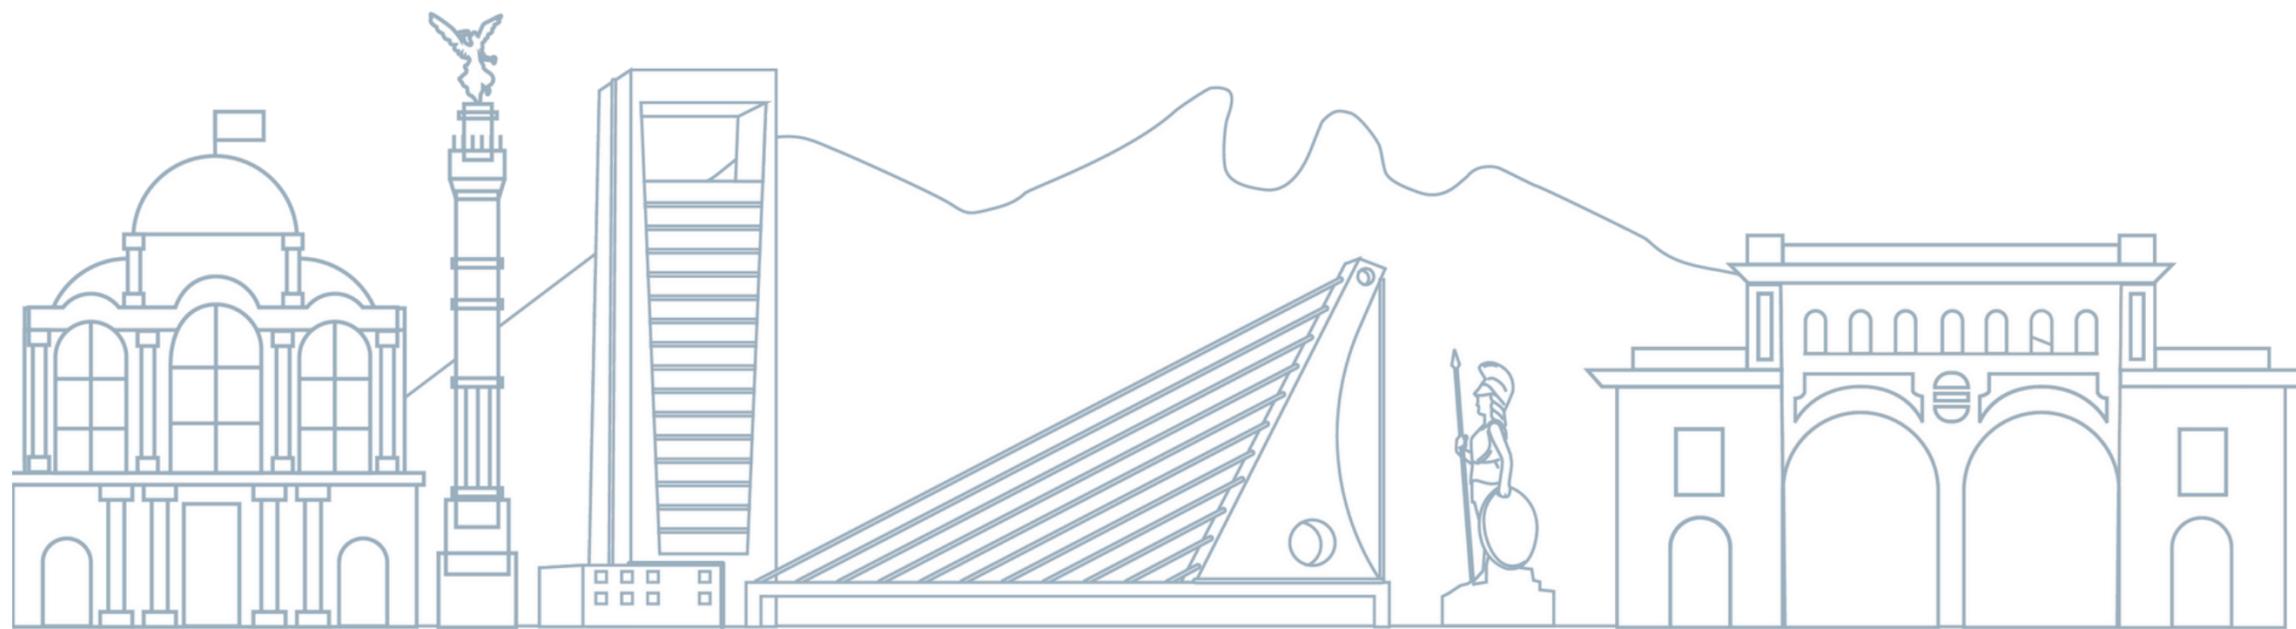

About us

We help bring clarity to decision-making in uncertain environments

At Strattia, we believe that the right decision, grounded in real intelligence and made at the right moment, can change everything.

Navigating complex environments isn't a matter of intuition alone. It takes context, precision, and knowing exactly where to focus. That's what we bring.

We help our clients anticipate what others don't see coming, understand what's actually driving risk, and make decisions they can stand behind , even under pressure.

Strattia

How we work

We combine structured analysis, strategic intelligence, and forward-looking insight to turn uncertainty into concrete decisions. In doing so, we strengthen your ability to respond with agile, effective actions focused on what matters most.

Our framework integrates open-source intelligence (OSINT) and on-the-ground human networks (HUMINT) into a methodology built to give you a real understanding of your environment – not just a summary of what happened, but a clear picture of what's coming.

The result: sharper decisions, stronger response capacity, and fewer surprises.

We understand your environment.

01.

WHAT WE DO

From reputational risk assessments and due diligence to specialized investigations, stakeholder mapping, and strategic planning, we help you make better decisions precisely when the landscape gets complicated

We bring clarity.

02.

HOW WE DO IT

We combine structured analytical rigor with creative, first-principles thinking. Our proprietary methodology means we don't assume we know your problem before we've actually understood it — and we don't offer solutions until we've built them around your reality.

We work alongside you.

03.

WHO WE WORK WITH

Security, legal, HR, institutional relations, and leadership teams. High-stakes areas where improvisation isn't an option and where the cost of being wrong is simply too high.

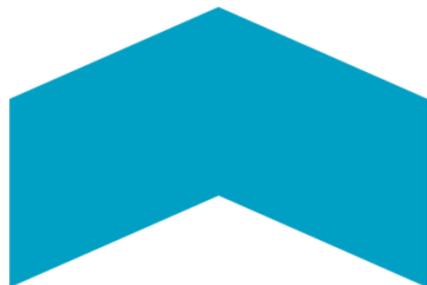

OUR METHODOLOGY

A methodology built around your reality, not a template.

Every organization is different. That's why we don't work from a fixed playbook. Our approach is dynamic, adaptive, and designed to evolve alongside your needs.

1. We listen to understand, not to assume. We take the time to understand what's actually at stake before we propose anything.
2. We connect what isn't immediately visible. We identify key risks and opportunities – and draw the links that help you anticipate what others miss entirely.
3. We analyze with focus, not with data overload. No noise. No fluff. Just sharp, clear, actionable intelligence.
4. We stay with you throughout the process. We follow up, measure impact, and adjust course when needed, because a good plan on paper means nothing if it doesn't work in practice.

We're not here to deliver decks. We're here to help you make better decisions and make sure those decisions hold up under pressure.

Everything we do is built around one goal:
helping you anticipate risk before it becomes a crisis.

› Anticipation

Due Diligence

We surface what background checks miss – sensitive connections, reputational signals, and social or political exposure that could affect your operations down the line.

Stakeholder Mapping and Strategic Engagement

We map the real networks of power and influence around your business and help you design engagement strategies that actually open doors – with government, communities, or key institutional players.

› Continuity

Reputational, Social, and Political Risk Assessments

We read the environment and its underlying tensions so you can anticipate conflict, not just react to it.

Specialized Investigations

We detect irregularities and internal or external risks before they escalate into something you can't control.

› Strategic foresight

Foresight and Strategic Planning

We build realistic, actionable scenarios for uncertain futures, identifying the critical drivers of change so your strategy doesn't get blindsided by what's already in motion.
