

Antoni Gaudí's Legacy in Montnegre: A Historic State

Antoni Gaudí's Legacy in Montnegre: A Historic State

This extraordinary property was once one of Gaudí's cherished summer retreats, where he spent a couple of idyllic seasons. During his stay, he created two unique stained-glass masterpieces, originally installed in the church located within the estate. These priceless works of art are now proudly displayed at Museu Nacional d'Art de Catalunya, a testament to the property's rich artistic and historical heritage.

Gaudí's Personal Connection

Antoni Gaudí himself stayed at the estate a couple of seasons. His presence left an indelible artistic mark.

The estate's chapel features original stained-glass windows designed by Gaudí. They bathe the space in mystical coloured light.

The chapel also showcases beautiful frescoes by Catalan artist Ramon Codinach. A marriage of artistic vision.
