No Second

I took a turn, thought I lost my way, Chasing a dream that began to fade.
Every wrong felt right in disguise, Funny how truth wears a thin white lie.

No second guess, I'd do it again,
Even the pain taught me to stand.
I twist my fear into gold and flame,
Every mistake just whispers my name.

Looked in the mirror, saw who I am,
Not the same, but I understand.
All of the echoes, they fade, they bend, Still, I walk forward, no need to mend.

No second guess, I'd do it again,
Even the pain taught me to stand.
I twist my fear into gold and flame,
Every mistake just whispers my name.

Maybe I fall, maybe I fly, Maybe I learn to love every why.
If I rewind, I'd press play the same,
It's all just the art of owning my name.

Lunatic Laundromat

washed in cold washed in warm but the clothes that come out are no darn better than they were before

Everybody's waiting
Everybody's seeing it
Everybody's ready on a lunatic laundromat

Mad wash cycle is worth nothing because they're mostly just rumors that someone tells to be important

Everybody's waiting
Everybody's seeing it
Everybody's ready on a lunatic laundromat

Dirty Laundry will never shine to bad about the time

Everybody's waiting
Everybody's seeing it
Everybody's ready on a lunatic laundromat

The Darkness Behind Me feat. Jester Mullholland

The darkness behind me
No longer alone
Back from the moment
I find my way home

I feel the silence breaking,
A gentle light unfolds Your shadow slowly fading, A new story to be told

They say I'm chasing something I'll never find
But I can't stay lost in someone else's mind

The darkness behind me
No longer alone
Back from the moment
I find my way home
The darkness behind me
No longer alone
Back from the moment
I find my way home

We gather broken pieces, Build bridges from the pain Together in the daylight,
We learn to breathe again

They say I'm chasing something I'll never find

The darkness behind me
No longer alone
Back from the moment
I find my way home
The darkness behind me
No longer alone
Back from the moment
I find my way home

Blood is stronger than water

Blood runs deep through veins untamed A bond so fierce it can't be named Water fades but blood remains Through the storm through joy through pain

Blood is stronger than water they say
Through the night through the fray
Hold on tight don't let it stray
True ties will never fade away

Friendship forged in fires unseen Sharper than the brightest sheen Safe the trust and guard the line
In your heart it will entwine

Blood is stronger than water they say

When the waves come crashing down When the world spins you around Look beside you don't despair Blood will always be right there

Blood is stronger than water they say

80s Forever

Driving down the midnight highway Neon lights illuminating the way Synthesizer melodies in the air 80s vibes, taking us somewhere

Drums thumping like a heartbeat of the night Glowing screens, colors shining bright

Lost in a world of pixels and dreams Synthwave magic, it's not what it seems

Dancing to the rhythm, feeling alive
In this neon city, we can't hide
Let the synthesizers take us away
To a place where the 80s forever stay

80s Forever
80s Forever

Driving down the highway Music is what holds us together Emotional melodies in the air Music vibes, taking us somewhere

Dancing to the rhythm, feeling alive

80s Forever
80s Forever

Seek Your Own

We're soaring beyond earthly bounds Discovering our inner light Leaving behind what once held us down Embracing our own inner flight

Goodbye
find your own sense of worth
A simple thought can make you fly

Seek your own sense of worth

Awaken to the truth within Our spirits, alive, believing As we break through barriers unseen Holding each other in the embrace

Goodbye

Fable

Sleeping in a old train
Your Voice
Ringing in my ear

Drunken in the fresh water
My God
doesn't it taste so sweet?

But I can't die for you
Even though you had to die for me
I know

Our heaven in the fresh water
destroyed and closer now How would it be if you lived before you drowned

I'm sink and sink
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me
I sink and I sink
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me

Drunken in the fresh water
My God
doesn't it taste so sweet?

I know

drowned

I'm sinking and sinking
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me
I sink and I sink
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me

I'm sinking and sinking
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me
I sink and I sink
I drift and I drift
Into the fable that saves me

Trap in Time

Tickin' hands, my wristwatch freeze in the mist, Drip so cold,
it's a glitch in the twist.
Past, present, future all locked in the grind, Chain on my neck, it's a loop in the mind.

Trap in time, can't rewind the grind,
Every tick tock got me losin' my mind.
Stuck in a loop, feel the hours combine,
Trap in time, I'm the prisoner, confined.

Sands of the hourglass spill on the floor, Door to the past won't open no more.
Every step forward,
I'm back at the start, Timeline tangled,
it's tearin' apart.

Black hole vibes, got me caught in the flow, Pull me to the void, where the seconds don't go.
Shadows of tomorrow creep on my skin, Caught in a cycle, where do I begin?

Trap in time, can't rewind the grind,
Every tick tock got me losin' my mind.
Stuck in a loop, feel the hours combine,
Trap in time, I'm the prisoner, confined.

Grateful

In the mirror reflections of a soul Chasing dreams but losing sight of the goal Built a fortress standing tall and high there's a whisper a silent cry

Aren't you grateful
Even though you've done
everything for yourself
Are you not happy
then try to remember
What the good days looked like
Aren't you grateful
Are you not happy
then try to remember
What the good days looked like

Imagine the sunrise that paints the sky Hope reborn that flares up in your eye Counting hours lost in the race forgotten smiles Moments cherished free from the chains

Aren't you grateful
Are you not happy
then try to remember
What the good days looked like
Aren't you grateful
Are you not happy
then try to remember
What the good days looked like

Infinitive Energy

Lightning hums through every wire
A silent spark, a roaring fire Circuits dance, no need for rest Heartbeats echo in my chest

Endless motion, endless sky Never asking how or why

Infinitive energy
It never dies
It burns, it glows, it electrifies
Infinitive energy
It's a pulse of you and me

Candle light flood the night Binary stars in pixel light Fingers tap on joyous song
The rhythm pulls and drags me along

Winter's silence, peaceful breath Love surrounds, chases death

Infinitive energy
It never dies
It burns, it glows, it electrifies
Infinitive energy
It's a pulse of you and me

Is Time (First and Last)

Wonderful, it's the first time this is the time to catch the wonder remember
it is always the first or the last

this is not the time to cry
remember

Time that is unrecoverable when you have fully realized this every moment in life is precious So make the most of every touch and everything that surrounds you with love repeat:

Wonderful, it's the first time
remember

remember

Stargazing Heart

In a sea of neon dreams Where shadows dance and gleam You found me lost and torn Beneath the midnight storm

Stars whisper secrets clear
Echoes of what we fear
Hearts beat in celestial rhyme
Forever caught in time

The night sky's a fragile veil Where our wishes sail Through galaxies afar Finding who we are

Stars whisper secrets clear

Moonlight's tender grace Lights up your hidden face In the silence we collide Worlds within us wide Endless nights and silver skies

In your gaze truth lies Together we'll transcend Till the universe bends

Stars whisper secrets clear

And I Run

I got lost on the street I'm on the way in my home town lots of noise around a lot of light distracts me my walk is quiet my thoughts are running fast a lot of stress around me a lot of hidden fear

But with every yard I walk with every positive thought with every step closer to home my heart grows wide wide wide

2x
and I run
find inside me
the right decision

discover within myself the perfect resolution hidden fears meeting with the capacity for resistance

with every hopeful notion approaching closer to home my heart expands wide wide wide

2x
and I run

with every step closer to home

2x
and I run
