

The Voice of the Grandmothers of the Americas

November 4th to 7th
2025

Tepoztlan, Mexico

Schedule

We welcome you to this sacred four-day journey, where each day will be an opportunity to remember, reconnect, and strengthen our bond with the Earth and with the living voice of the Grandmothers of the Americas.

This gathering is not just an event — it is a deep calling to our ancestral memory, to the medicine of the circle, to the strength of the feminine lineage that pulses in our roots and in our blood.

Each day will honor one of the four elements — fire, water, earth, and air — and with them, the collective prayer we will weave together. We will be guided by the voices of the Grandmothers, sharing their wisdom and medicine. There will also be ceremonies, songs, integration spaces, and a vibrant energy that will grow and sustain us as one unified web. Prepare to walk through this experience with an open heart, awakened senses, and a soul ready to receive.

Below you will find the event schedule, lovingly designed so that every moment is filled with depth and meaning.

Please note that the schedule is subject to change. We honor the flow of life and of ceremony, and we trust that everything will unfold as it is meant to. Any modifications will be communicated during the event by the organizing team.

Thank you for your trust, your presence, and for answering the call.
