

Corn Moon

September's Full Moon

The month that corn is ready to be harvested. Hence the name "Corn Moon", from the Native Americans.

Fae Magick

A time for connecting with the Spirits of the water and seeking their blessings for abundance and growth. All Water Fae and Fae associated with the sea are mainly associated with this full moon, like Nereids and Mermaids.

Falling close to the Autumn Equinox, this moon symbolizes the culmination of the growing season and the gathering of crops. It represents abundance, gratitude, and the rewards of hard work.

The September Full Moon invites us to reflect on the year's journey and to express gratitude for the blessings and lessons we have received. It encourages us to appreciate the abundance in our lives and to acknowledge the efforts that have brought us to this point.

This moon also marks a time of balance, as day and night become equal during the Autumn Equinox. It emphasizes the importance of finding harmony within ourselves and in our relationships. The Harvest Moon's energy supports us in achieving balance between giving and receiving, work and rest, and the material and spiritual aspects of life.

Moreover, the September Full Moon is a powerful time for letting go of what no longer serves us. As we harvest the fruits of our labor, we are also encouraged to release old patterns, habits, and burdens that hinder our growth. This creates space for new opportunities and transformations in the coming months.

In essence, the September Full Moon is a time for celebrating abundance, practicing gratitude, finding balance, and preparing for new beginnings.

Magickal Works

The September Full Moon is about balance, grounding, and preparation. It's a great time to practice balance and harmony spells, grounding rituals, spells for organization and preparation, and rituals for transition and change.
