

Snow Moon

February's Full Moon

The month that snow has covered everything. Hence the name "Snow Moon", from the Native Americans.

Fae Magick

A time for honoring the Spirits of the land and seeking their blessings for the coming spring. All household Fae and Fae of domestic flowers and plants are mainly associated with this full moon, like Gnomes and Hobs.

The February Full Moon embodies a time of introspection, purification, and anticipation of spring. Nestled in winter's embrace, it urges us to delve inward, exploring emotions and gaining spiritual insights. As winter loosens its grip and spring beckons, this moon offers a chance for purification rituals, shedding negativity and preparing for renewal.

With new beginnings on the horizon, it's a time for setting intentions and aligning with transformative energies. Embracing nature's rhythms, it encourages appreciation for winter's beauty and the tranquility it brings.

As daylight lingers and spring whispers its arrival, the moon inspires hope and renewal. Amidst winter's chill, it reminds us to cherish life's blessings and find beauty in the present. Overall, the February Full Moon facilitates deep spiritual growth, purification, and alignment with nature's cycles, reinforcing the resilience and potential of the human spirit.

Magickal Works

February is all about love, purification, and renewal. It's the perfect time to cast love spells (both self-love and romantic), perform purification rituals, and work on healing spells. Focus on strengthening your relationships and friendships to make the most of this month's energy.

A MYSTICAL STUDIES LIBRARY PRINTABLE

Associated Crystal, Herb & Flower

MISS DANA'S WISDOM

Amethyst

Lavender

Violet