

Goldilocks & the Three Bears

Exploring a new house lands the Nguzo Babies in a bear family's home! They learn about respecting spaces and how everyone has different needs.

- Abena needed quiet to write her poem, but her friends wanted to play a loud game. How do you feel when it is too noisy around you?
- The bears use different chairs, beds, and food because they all like different things. What is something you need or like that is different from what your friends or family like?
- The friends didn't mean any harm, but they forgot to ask before using the bears' things. Why is it important to ask for permission before touching something that isn't ours?

Adventure Activity

Create a "Quiet Zone" or make a "Quiet/Loud" sign together using crayons and paper. Practice changing your voices and actions to match the sign!
