PABLONEMO

Pablo Nemo is a traveler, explorer, author, and keynote speaker named Tourism Ambassador of Zanzibar.

He became one of the few people in history — to walk across Africa without interruption or assistance, completing a solo 800-day expedition through 11 countries. His journey was a tribute to the “Cradle of Humankind” and a call to reconnect with nature and the spirit of exploration.

Pablo lives as a modern nomad. Through his adventures and storytelling, he shares transformative experiences that inspire people to live with purpose, embrace sustainability and conservation, and celebrate the diversity of our planet. From this great odyssey, his life’s project was born: THE TEMPLE, a cinematic saga that follows the Chakras of the Earth.

Today, Pablo is considered one of the most influential explorers of our time, and has been recognized by National Geographic for accomplishing one of the greatest feats of the 21st century.

WALKING. ALONE. UNASISSTED.

WALKING AFRICA (2021 - 2024) Pablo's solo and unassisted expedition — one of the very few times in history that someone has completed this epic journey, from Cape Town to Cairo.

He walked through 11 countries and 15,000 kilometers over more than two years, relying solely on his own resources and determination. Across deserts, jungles, and mountains, he immersed himself in local cultures and faced countless challenges.

Through this journey of resilience and connection, Pablo's expedition not only revealed the beauty and diversity of Africa — but also inspired people around the world to follow their own dreams of adventure and discovery.

History is written with many firsts: Marco Polo was the first European to enter the court of China, the botanist Jeanne Baret was the first traveler to circumnavigate the globe, Louis Armstrong was the first human to set foot on the moon, and Pablo Nemo was the first Spaniard to cross Africa on foot and alone for more than 800 day.

“At the culmination of an 800-day pilgrimage through Africa, I have come to believe that happiness is a state of being rooted in gratitude for each present moment and in the loving acceptance of life in all its forms. In Africa, I discovered true happiness in the simplicity and fullness of the present moment.”

THE TEMPLE

SEVEN CHAKRAS. ONE PILGRIMAGE.

BE PART OF THE HUMAN JOURNEY

A JOURNEY TO THE HEART OF THE PLANET, OUR TEMPLE.

SEVEN SACRED SITES. ONE HUMAN ODYSSEY.

The first great pilgrimage across the Earth's Chakras.

A cinematic odyssey that blends adventure, ancestral wisdom, and the timeless questions of our age.

Led by Pablo Nemo, one of the few men in history to walk across Africa, this journey pushes human endurance beyond its limits. An epic quest that explores the spirit of humanity and our deepest origins.

It is an inner search told through some of the most extraordinary adventures ever captured on film. Each episode gives voice to indigenous communities, visionaries, and ancestral cultures. And it reminds us that Earth is more than our home: it is the Temple that belongs to us all.

Our story told as never before.

An odyssey that could define a generation.
