

A Must-Read for Success

AI is an incredibly powerful tool when used correctly. However, very few people truly know how to handle it, and a common mistake many make is underestimating the importance of the prompt – the request the AI must respond to. Here's a short guide on how to unlock the full potential of AI:

How to Write Effective Prompts for Better AI Responses

To get high-quality outputs from an AI, it's important to follow a clear and methodical approach when crafting your prompts. Here are some key guidelines:

→ Specify the Topic or Niche

Always include the desired theme or niche in your prompt. This helps the AI focus its response and deliver more relevant content.

→ Use Clear and Simple Language

Avoid jargon, complex terms, and spelling mistakes. The clearer your instructions, the easier it is for the AI to understand and respond accurately.

→ Provide Context

Adding context is crucial for better results. One effective method is to present yourself as an expert in the chosen niche and in content creation. This signals to the AI that your expectations are high, which often results in more thoughtful and in-depth responses.

→ Use Role-Based Instructions

Another useful strategy is to tell the AI to "act as [a specific role]." This helps simulate real world scenarios and encourages more immersive, realistic answers.

Be Precise and Detailed

→ The more specific you are, the better the AI can tailor its output. Include clear instructions about your goals, constraints, and expectations. However, keep in mind that overly long or complex prompts can be harder for the AI to handle effectively.

→ Review and Iterate

After receiving a response, ask the AI to evaluate its own output. You can request its opinion on the strengths and weaknesses of the response, and how it might be improved.

By applying these strategies, you'll significantly increase the quality and relevance of the AI's responses.

Example of a prompt for writing an article on the Big Bang for a scientific journal:

the context

i am a researcher in astrophysics and would like to write a 1,000-word article on the Big Bang for a scientific journal.

the overall instruction

Please act as an experienced and knowledgeable astrophysicist and write the article in a clear and concise manner.

the specific requirements

The article should follow a logical structure:

1. Begin with an overview of the main theories regarding the origin of the Big Bang.
2. Then, explain what followed immediately after the Big Bang and describe the early stages of the universe's evolution.

Make sure the article is accessible to scientifically literate readers but avoid overly technical language. The tone should be professional, informative, and suitable for publication in a scientific review.

The prompts :

AI-Powered Digital Products (Ex: prompt packs, templates, notion kits, courses).

Goal: Help users monetize their knowledge, skills, or audience with scalable digital assets.

- I want to build and sell a simple Notion or PDF template. Based on my background in [insert niche/skill], give me 5 product ideas with high demand and low competition.
- Turn my existing knowledge in [insert domain] into a step-by-step mini-course that solves a burning pain point in less than 2 hours.
- What are 10 underserved micro-niches where AI-powered prompt packs could sell well on Gumroad, Etsy, or Lemon Squeezy?
- Generate a sales page (copy + structure) for a digital product that teaches [insert promise], optimized for impulse buyers.
- I want to launch a low-effort, evergreen digital product using ChatGPT + Canva. Give me a 3-step workflow from ideation to launch.
- Based on this TikTok trend [insert link], create a digital product idea I could sell in less than 7 days.
- Generate a 7-day launch sequence (email or content) to sell my template/course to a cold audience.
- What are 3 types of low-priced products I can bundle together to create a high-perceived-value offer?
- Reframe this basic product idea [insert idea] into an irresistible offer with urgency and positioning.
- I want to sell a prompt library for [specific job/niche]. Generate a structure + naming system + 5 example prompts to include.

E-commerce (without inventory) — POD, Affiliate, Dropshipping 2.0

Goal: Help users create modern, lean stores with unique angles and monetization strategies.

- I want to build a faceless POD (Print-on-Demand) store in 2025. Give me 3 niche brand ideas with story-based positioning.
- Based on my interest in [insert hobby], suggest 5 winning product angles to test with dropshipping using TikTok ads.
- Generate 10 examples of viral TikTok hooks for a print-on-demand product targeting [insert audience].
- I want to build a product comparison content site and monetize with affiliate links. Help me pick a niche with underserved traffic.
- Create a one-product store idea that could go viral in 2025 using UGC and emotional storytelling.
- Rewrite this product description [insert text] using AIDA framework to boost conversions.
- Give me 5 affiliate content ideas (YouTube/Blog/Shorts) to generate passive income using Amazon or Digistore.
- I want to build an ecomm site that doesn't look like dropshipping. What are 5 visual tactics to build trust and brand perception?
- Build me a 7-day content challenge to launch my niche store on TikTok + Instagram without showing my face.
- What are 3 pricing strategies to sell high perceived-value digital/physical hybrid products (ex: digital guide + physical kit)?

Freelance & AI Services (Low-tech)

Goal: Help users make quick income online using AI as leverage, without coding or heavy ops.

- I want to start freelancing using ChatGPT. Suggest 5 high-demand, low-competition services I can offer.
- Based on my past job experience in [insert], package it into an AI-assisted service and name it like a product.
- Turn this AI workflow [describe] into a Fiverr gig that solves a specific business pain.
- What are 5 types of local businesses that would pay for basic AI automations (email gen, customer replies, content)?

- Create a cold outreach email to pitch my ChatGPT-powered [insert service] to solo founders/startups.
 - I want to offer a ghostwriting service for LinkedIn using ChatGPT. Build me a pricing structure + 3 offer tiers.
 - Turn this boring job [insert] into a sexy service that sounds premium, valuable, and time-saving.
 - I want to sell AI-generated workbooks on Etsy for coaches. Give me 5 product types + keyword strategy.
 - What are 5 ways to turn ChatGPT into a "time multiplier" service I can resell to overwhelmed solopreneurs?
 - Build me a lean 3-step system to sell AI-enhanced freelance services via Upwork or cold outreach.

Irresistible Offers & Product Positioning

Goal: Teach users how to build products/services that sell themselves through clarity, urgency, and value stacking.

- Transform this basic idea [insert offer] into a premium offer using a stack of bonuses, scarcity and naming.
- What's the difference between an "offer" and a "product"? Reframe this [insert description] into an offer with a transformation promise.
- Give me 5 examples of offers in different niches that sell because they solve a "high pain + high urgency" problem.
- I want to build a "Done With You" service around [insert niche]. Design 3 offer versions: Free → Paid → Premium.
- Rebuild my product page headline so it hooks emotionally and focuses on outcome over features.
- Help me name this product [describe it] in a way that increases perceived value and curiosity.
- Create 3 upsell ideas that would make sense if someone buys [insert product/service].

- I want to build a “challenge offer” (ex: 5-day, 30-day). Give me a structure to increase completion + virality.
 - Turn this service [insert description] into a subscription with recurring value + retention mechanisms.
 - Design a compelling sales argument for an offer priced at $97 that needs to feel like a $500+ product.

Sales Tactics, Persuasion & Funnel Strategy

Goal: Help users improve conversions and boost lifetime value through smart systems and copywriting.

- Write 5 “pain-first” hooks to introduce my offer to a cold audience on TikTok or Instagram.
- What’s a 3-step funnel I can use to capture leads, warm them up, and sell my low-ticket offer?
- Help me write an abandoned cart email that reactivates with urgency and soft humor.
- I want to sell via DMs without sounding spammy. Build a 4-step message framework for warm leads.
- What are 3 types of CTA that convert better than “Buy now” or “Click here”? Apply them to my offer.
- Break down this sales page [insert link or text] and tell me what’s missing to increase conversions.
- Give me 5 video script structures to sell a product in < 60 seconds without sounding like a salesperson.
- Create a 3-email sequence for buyers to reduce refunds and increase upsells.
- I want to run a time-limited promo without looking desperate. Help me structure the campaign.
- Suggest a mini-funnel that combines email, lead magnet, and limited-time coupon to close sales faster.

And now? Act :

Prompts aren't magic formulas — they are powerful tools. But reaching your goals takes determination, discipline, and persistence.

Here's a 30-day action plan to help you get started the right way and perform at your best from day one :

Week 1:

- Define your main goal: income, audience, brand, or freedom? Write it down.
- Choose ONE business model to focus on (digital products, ecom, freelancing, etc.)
- Create your workspace (Notion, Google Docs, Trello) to organize ideas and execution.
- Set a time block each day for content creation or learning (1h min).

Week 2:

- Create your first product/service/content piece, no matter how simple.
- Share it publicly (social media, community, marketplace).
- Focus on speed over perfection: launch > learn > improve.
- Document the process — your journey is part of your future brand.

Week 3:

- Post daily on one platform (TikTok, LinkedIn, Threads, etc.)
- Engage 15 minutes/day: comments, DMs, and strategic replies to grow visibility.
- Ask for feedback. Iterate fast. Don't take silence as failure — it's data.

Week 4:

- Refine your offer: clearer title, better angle, stronger CTA.
- Add urgency or exclusivity (limited-time bonus, countdown, etc.)
- Experiment with low-risk paid traffic (optional).
- Build your email list or simple funnel to start collecting leads for long-term growth.

Action beats overthinking.

No winner ever gave up.

Waiting won't make the water any hotter.

There's no better time to start than the moment you finish reading this sentence.
