Ashley Renè Atelier Mission

At Ashley Renè Atelier, our mission is to create timeless, soul-stirring works of art that honor the sacred, the symbolic, and the unseen. Guided by the spiritual path of our founder and High Priestess Ashley Renè, the atelier exists at the intersection of creativity and ceremony—where each work becomes a vessel for deeper knowing.

Through both digital compositions and hand-painted originals, we explore themes of memory, mythology, divine femininity, emotional legacy, and spiritual transformation. Our work is rooted in ritual, informed by intuition, and shaped by the wisdom of ancestral energies.

We exist to offer more than images—we offer visual rituals. Each piece is crafted with intention and layered meaning, inviting viewers into quiet spaces of reflection, reclamation, and deeper connection.

Whether experienced on canvas, screen, or in curated virtual exhibitions, our work is dedicated to storytelling that endures—and to creating art that not only speaks, but remembers.

Artist: Short Bio

Ashley Renè

Ashley Renè is a multidisciplinary artist, curator, creative strategist, and High Priestess who brings over a decade of executive business experience into the heart of Ashley Renè Atelier. With a formal education in visual design from The Art Institutes and a professional background in corporate leadership and brand development, Ashley bridges the structure of strategy with the soul of storytelling.

Her work—spanning both digital and hand-painted mediums—draws from mythology, emotion, and ancestral memory, creating visual narratives that are as thoughtful as they are timeless. As both spiritual guide and artistic leader, Ashley infuses her practice with ritual, symbolism, and sacred intention. At the helm of the atelier, she leads with entrepreneurial clarity and spiritual depth—guiding the studio's creative direction, collaborations, and collector experience with reverence, vision, and soul.

Artist: Long Bio

Ashley Renè

I am a Artist – a digital storyteller, sculptor, and traditional painter, a High Priestess, and a Spiritual Practitioner—three sacred practices that guide and inform my creative path. Through Ashley Renè Atelier, I explore the threshold between the seen and unseen, memory and mythology, spirit and form. Whether through brushstroke, digital composition, or sacred counsel, my work invites reflection, revelation, and healing.

As a practitioner of tarot, spiritual advisory, and ancient apothecary, my art is not only visual but vibrational—infused with ritual, ancestral wisdom, and intuitive knowing. These modalities ground my process and breathe life into each piece, transforming them into energetic vessels that carry meaning beyond the surface.

Occasionally, I share original photography that mirrors these themes of mood, place, and presence. Select virtual exhibitions feature not only my own work but also curated pieces by artists whose voices resonate with the atelier's vision of truth, divinity, and transformation through art.

This journey continues to unfold. Every piece I create reflects what we carry, what we release, and what we remember. Art, for me, is both ritual and reclamation.

My practice began with a desire to give form to the unspoken—grief, intuition, resilience, and ancestral echoes. What started with intimate, hand-painted canvases evolved into a multidisciplinary approach where canvas, code, and sacred ritual converge.

Today, I continue to create in both digital and hand-painted formats, with new work released regularly. My acrylic paintings are original, emotional landscapes—layered with texture, movement, and spiritual resonance. My digital art is no less intimate—each piece a portal into a symbolic world shaped by story, energy, and introspection.

The Ashley Renè Atelier Vision: Artistic Philosophy and Spiritual Approach

At Ashley Renè Atelier, we envision a world where art is not merely observed—but felt, remembered, and revered. A world where beauty holds meaning, and creative expression becomes a sacred act of remembrance, healing, and transformation.

As both a multidisciplinary artist and High Priestess, Ashley Renè leads the atelier with the belief that art is a spiritual language—one that channels ancestral wisdom, emotional truth, and divine presence. Our vision is to build a legacy of work that transcends trend and medium, uniting timeless symbolism with contemporary storytelling and spiritual depth.

Through original paintings, digital compositions, intuitive photography, and curated virtual exhibitions, we aim to inspire personal reflection, cultural dialogue, and sacred connection across generations and dimensions.

We believe that art can hold truth. That it can witness. That it can restore. That it can reveal what has always been holy—within us and around us.

This is the vision we create toward—one image, one invocation, one sacred offering at a time.
