

INFECTION FILE 00 [REDACTED]

ACCESS GRANTED — CLASSIFIED DOCUMENT

SUBJECT: Initial Contagion

LOCATION: Fresno County, CA

DATE: 09/17

STATUS: Inconclusive

NOTES:

Fragments suggest the infection begins in abandoned structures and migrates through whispers at 3:07 a.m. Survivors report auditory hallucinations, repeating obituaries, and shifting shadows.

WARNING:

Do not drink from springs. Do not respond to whispers. Infection spreads fastest through names spoken aloud.

Classified—Fragmentary

[Recovered Fragment—Audio Transcription]

*Three drops fall from the mountain stream,
Two are clean, one carries the dream.
Fresno graves hum back the sound,
Quillville springs will drag you down.*

[Archivist Note]:

Rhyme cadence suggests origin as a children's chant. Transmission vector unknown. Possible Fresno ↔ Quillville linkage. Cross-reference withheld pending further infection analysis.
