

Life gives us so many meaningful moments beyond weddings — moments of love, loss, change, growth and connection. These ceremonies are created with the same care, warmth and personal touch as my weddings, offering space to honour what matters most to you.

Each ceremony is thoughtfully written, gently guided, and completely tailored. Because every family, story and circumstance is different, pricing is provided upon enquiry.

Funeral & Memorial Services

A Gentle Goodbye, Filled with Meaning

A warm, respectful and personalised service to honour a loved one's life. Whether you're saying goodbye in a chapel, at a graveside, in a garden, or somewhere deeply meaningful, this service is created with compassion and care.

I will walk beside you through this process, helping shape a ceremony that feels right — never rushed, never impersonal.

Together we can include:

- A personalised tribute or life story
- Readings, poems or prayers (religious, spiritual or non-religious)
- Family and friend involvement (eulogies, shared memories)
- Music coordination (live or recorded)
- Gentle guidance on the flow of the service

This service can be traditional, modern, spiritual, or completely unique to your loved one.

Price available on enquiry.

Celebration of Life

Honouring the Life, Not Just the Goodbye

A celebration-of-life ceremony focuses on memories, stories, laughter and connection. It can be held days, weeks or even months after a passing, in any setting that feels right.

Non-Wedding Ceremonies with Daydream Celebrations

This style of ceremony is ideal for those wanting something less formal and more reflective of a life well lived.

May include:

- A relaxed, uplifting tone
- Storytelling and shared memories
- Symbolic rituals (candles, flowers, memory tables)
- Family and friend participation\
- A completely custom structure

Naming Ceremony

Welcoming a Child, Your Way

A naming ceremony is a beautiful, inclusive alternative to a christening. It formally welcomes a child into their family and community, celebrating love, belonging and commitment.

This ceremony can be light-hearted, meaningful, playful or deeply emotional — and can include cultural or spiritual elements if you wish.

May include:

- Child's naming and meaning
- Parent and family promises
- Guide parent or mentor acknowledgements
- Symbolic rituals (candles, trees, keepsakes)
- Inclusion of siblings and extended family

Held at home, a park or a special venue.

Moments Worth Marking

Some moments in life don't fit neatly into a category — but they still deserve to be acknowledged, honoured and gently held.

These ceremonies are for times of change, closure, healing or new beginnings.

Examples include:

- Farewell ceremonies – to consciously say goodbye to a place, role, chapter, workplace or community
- Transition ceremonies – to mark a significant life change such as separation, retirement, recovery, identity change or personal growth
- Healing or remembrance rituals
- Cultural or blended ceremonies
- Family unity ceremonies

These ceremonies can be private or shared, quiet or celebratory, simple or deeply symbolic — whatever feels right for you.

Which Ceremony Is Right for You?

If you're unsure what type of ceremony best suits your situation, that's completely okay. Many people simply know they want something meaningful, but don't know what to call it — and that's where I can help.

I'm always happy to talk through your ideas, answer questions, and gently guide you toward a ceremony that feels right for you.

All non-wedding ceremonies are professionally delivered, thoughtfully written and tailored to suit your needs. Please get in touch to discuss your vision and receive a personalised quote.
