Report

From the Secretariat,

We extend our sincere gratitude to all those who contributed to the success of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, conducted in Hybrid Mode from September 17th to 26th, 2025. The workshop was organized by Southfield College, Darjeeling; JP College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi; and Standard College, Manipur, in collaboration with RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi; South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil; and Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu.

We are especially grateful to our esteemed faculty and resource persons for their valuable contributions: Mr. Brianson Lepcha, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Southfield College, Darjeeling; Dr. Keisham Subharani Devi, Assistant Professor & Head, Department of Chemistry, Standard College, Kongba, Manipur; and Dr. Roshinibala Devi, Assistant Professor, Department of Home Science, Standard College, Kongba, Manipur. Their expertise, guidance, and active participation greatly enhanced the quality of discussions, knowledge sharing, and overall learning experience.

We look forward to continued collaboration and support in future academic and research initiatives.

With warm regards and gratitude,

Dr. Benet Rajadurai

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on

“Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”

Dates: September 17th – 26th, 2025

Mode: Hybrid (Online and Offline)

Organizers: Southfield College, Darjeeling; JP College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi & Standard College, Manipur

Collaborators: RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi; South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil; Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu

Introduction

The Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” was conducted from September 17th to 26th, 2025, in a hybrid mode, combining both in-person and online sessions. The workshop aimed at providing comprehensive insights into quantitative research methods, equipping researchers, scholars, and postgraduate students with the essential tools, techniques, and practical applications necessary for conducting high-quality research.

The event was jointly organized by Southfield College, Darjeeling, JP College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi, and Standard College, Manipur, in collaboration with prominent institutions and organizations, including RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil, and the Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu. The workshop attracted a diverse group of participants from across India and neighboring countries, fostering international collaboration and academic exchange.

Objectives of the Workshop

The primary objectives of the workshop were:

1. To introduce participants to the core principles and techniques of quantitative research.
2. To provide hands-on training in data collection, management, analysis, and interpretation using statistical tools.
3. To enhance participants' understanding of research ethics, report writing, and publication standards.
4. To create a platform for interdisciplinary collaboration and knowledge sharing among scholars, academicians, and researchers.
5. To familiarize participants with the latest software and digital tools for quantitative research, including Excel, SPSS, and other statistical packages.

The workshop was designed to cater to beginners, intermediate, and advanced researchers, ensuring that participants from various academic backgrounds could benefit fully.

Key Highlights

1. Hybrid Mode: The combination of online and offline sessions allowed participation from remote locations and international scholars.
2. Hands-on Learning: Participants engaged in practical exercises with real datasets using statistical tools like Excel and SPSS.
3. International Collaboration: The participation of South Eastern University of Sri Lanka and IIDM, Tamil Nadu, provided an international perspective on research methodologies.
4. Interdisciplinary Focus: The workshop was designed to cater to researchers from sociology, social work, disaster management, and other social science disciplines.
5. Networking Opportunities: Participants had the chance to interact with resource persons, fostering potential collaborations and future research partnerships.

Outcomes and Impact

The workshop successfully achieved its objectives, and participants reported increased confidence and competence in conducting quantitative research. Key outcomes include:

- Enhanced understanding of research design, data collection, and statistical analysis.
- Improved ability to use statistical tools for data visualization and interpretation.
- Awareness of ethical considerations and research integrity.
- Strengthened academic networks and potential for collaborative research projects.

Certificates were issued to all participants, acknowledging their successful completion of the workshop. The event also laid the foundation for future workshops and training programs in quantitative research methods.

The Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” was a landmark initiative in promoting quantitative research skills among scholars and researchers. The combination of international collaboration, expert-led sessions, practical exercises, and interactive discussions made the workshop highly effective and enriching. The organizers of Southfield College, Darjeeling, JP College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi and Standard College, Manipur along with their collaborators, deserve appreciation for their meticulous planning, seamless execution, and commitment to fostering research excellence. The workshop has not only enhanced the participants’ skills but has also strengthened academic ties across institutions in India and abroad, contributing significantly to the advancement of social science research.

RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society

Introduction: Research Committee 25 (RC 25) on Sociology of Sports is a specialized body within the Indian Sociological Society (ISS) dedicated to the study and promotion of sociological perspectives on sports and physical culture. Established to foster academic research, the committee serves as a platform for scholars, researchers, and practitioners to examine the interplay between sports, society, and culture in India and beyond.

Objectives:

The primary objectives of RC 25 include:

1. Promoting interdisciplinary research on sports from sociological, cultural, and psychological perspectives.
2. Encouraging scholarly discussion on issues such as sports participation, gender and sports, inequality, commercialization, and policy development.
3. Facilitating collaboration among universities, research institutions, and sports organizations to strengthen academic networks.
4. Supporting research dissemination through conferences, workshops, publications, and seminars.
5. Nurturing young researchers by providing guidance, mentorship, and platforms to present their work.

Significance: Sports are not merely recreational activities but are deeply embedded in social, cultural, and economic contexts. RC 25 emphasizes understanding how sports influence social identity, community cohesion, gender norms, and social mobility. By applying sociological theories and methods, the committee examines sports as a site for both social integration and social inequalities.

International Collaboration: RC 25 actively collaborates with international bodies, universities, and research organizations to exchange knowledge, conduct joint research projects, and organize workshops and conferences, thereby fostering a global perspective on the sociology of sports. RC 25: Sociology of Sports serves as a vital hub for researchers and academicians interested in understanding the complex relationship between sports and society. Through its initiatives in research, collaboration, and dissemination, RC 25 contributes significantly to the growth of sports sociology in India and enhances the understanding of sports as a critical social phenomenon.

Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu

The Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), located in Tamil Nadu, is a premier institution dedicated to disaster preparedness, risk reduction, and management. Established with the vision of building resilient communities, IIDM focuses on research, training, and capacity-building in all aspects of disaster management, including natural, technological, and human-induced hazards.

Objectives:

The core objectives of IIDM include:

1. Disaster Preparedness and Training: To provide comprehensive training programs for government officials, NGOs, community leaders, and students in disaster risk reduction and management.
2. Research and Innovation: To conduct interdisciplinary research on disaster risk assessment, mitigation strategies, and sustainable disaster management practices.
3. Community Engagement: To empower communities through awareness campaigns, disaster drills, and participatory programs aimed at reducing vulnerability.
4. Policy Support: To assist policymakers in framing effective disaster management policies, guidelines, and standard operating procedures.
5. Capacity Building: To develop skilled human resources capable of handling emergency situations efficiently and effectively.

Activities and Programs: IIDM undertakes a wide range of initiatives, including:

- Training Workshops and Seminars: Focused on disaster risk assessment, early warning systems, emergency response, and recovery strategies.
- Simulation Exercises: Conducts mock drills and scenario-based exercises for schools, hospitals, and government agencies.
- Research Projects: Engages in applied research to improve disaster preparedness and develop innovative management tools.
- Consultancy Services: Provides technical assistance to governmental and non-governmental organizations in disaster management planning.

- Community Awareness Programs: Educates local populations on risk mitigation, evacuation planning, and first-aid response.

Significance: IIDM plays a crucial role in reducing the impact of disasters on vulnerable populations. By integrating scientific research with practical training and community participation, the institute contributes to building resilient societies capable of anticipating, responding to, and recovering from disasters.

Collaboration: The institute collaborates with national and international agencies, universities, and research organizations to enhance disaster management practices and knowledge sharing. It also participates in workshops, conferences, and joint initiatives to promote a multidisciplinary approach to disaster resilience. The Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM) is a vital institution in Tamil Nadu and India at large, committed to fostering disaster-resilient communities through research, training, and proactive intervention. Its holistic approach combines scientific research, policy support, and community engagement, ensuring sustainable and effective disaster management practices.

Prof. Sanjay Tewari

Honorary Professor, Russian Academy of Social & Fundamental Sciences, Moscow

Prof. Sanjay Tewari is an eminent academic and sports sociologist with a distinguished career in teaching, research, and professional engagement in the field of sociology of sports. He currently serves as Honorary Professor at the Russian Academy of Social & Fundamental Sciences, Moscow. He is also the Chair of the Sport, Leisure & the Body Division of the Society for the Study of Social Problems (SSSP), University of Tennessee, Knoxville, USA.

Prof. Tewari has held several leadership positions in national and international academic bodies. He is the Convener of RC 25 (Sociology of Sports) of the Indian Sociological Society for 2024–25 and has also served as a Managing Committee Member (2018–23) of the Indian Sociological Society. His involvement with professional associations extends globally, as he is a member of the North American Society for the Study of Sports (NASSS).

In addition to his academic contributions, Prof. Tewari has a strong background in sports administration and technical officiating. He served as a National Technical Official at the International Paralympic Committee, Bonn, in 2010, reflecting his active engagement in promoting inclusive sports.

With a unique combination of academic expertise and practical involvement in sports, Prof. Tewari continues to contribute significantly to advancing the sociology of sports both in India and abroad.

RAHUL KAPOOR

Mr. B. Chibbymuthu is currently pursuing his Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in the Department of Sociology & Social Work, Annamalai University, Chidambaram, Tamil Nadu. He has been associated with Annamalai University for a long time, having completed both his undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in Sociology from the same institution. With a strong academic foundation, he has also enriched his qualifications by completing a Post Graduate Diploma in Human Resource Management from Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU).

Mr. Chibbymuthu is actively engaged in academic research and has contributed to the field of Sociology through publications and conference presentations. He has authored and co-authored book chapters and has presented research papers in several national and international conferences, which have provided him with opportunities to interact with scholars, exchange ideas, and broaden his academic perspectives. His research involvement reflects his commitment to advancing sociological knowledge, particularly in areas related to industry and research practices.

His primary areas of specialization are Industrial Sociology and Research Methodology. Through his doctoral research, he seeks to explore critical dimensions of industrial relations, workforce dynamics, and organizational structures, alongside developing and applying advanced methodological approaches to social research. His academic journey demonstrates a strong balance between theoretical insights and practical applications.

Mr. Chibbymuthu aspires to contribute meaningfully to the discipline of Sociology by integrating his research expertise with teaching and academic engagement. With a passion for learning and dissemination of knowledge, he continues to evolve as a researcher and scholar, working towards producing impactful contributions to the field.

Day: 1: Report on the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”
(Hybrid Mode). September 17th. 2025

Introduction

The Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” commenced on 17th September 2025 in hybrid mode. It was jointly organized by Southfield College, Darjeeling, West Bengal, J.P. College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi, Tamil Nadu, and the Departments of Chemistry and Home Science, Standard College, Manipur. The event was held in collaboration with RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi, the Faculty of Arts & Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil, and the Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu. The workshop was designed to enhance participants’ methodological skills, particularly in the field of quantitative research, which plays a crucial role in ensuring evidence-based scholarship and informed policy decisions.

Day 1: Technical Sessions

Session 1 featured Dr. Rahul Kapoor, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, Gautam Buddha University, as the Resource Person. Dr. Kapoor shared his expertise on the fundamentals of research design, focusing on sampling strategies, data collection methods, and the role of quantitative analysis in social science research. His interactive session encouraged participants to critically engage with the challenges of applying statistical methods in diverse research contexts.

Session 2 was led by Mr. Chibby Muthu, Doctoral Scholar, Department of Sociology, Annamalai University, Chidambaram, Tamil Nadu, who presented on the topic “Introduction to Quantitative Research.” His session provided participants with a conceptual grounding in quantitative methodology, addressing the distinctions between qualitative and quantitative approaches, the significance of objectivity, and the process of operationalizing research variables.

Both sessions were highly informative, offering participants valuable insights into the theoretical and practical aspects of quantitative research methodology.

Conclusion

The first day of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop successfully combined inspirational addresses with technical learning. The inaugural session established the workshop's vision of fostering academic rigor and international collaboration, while the technical sessions provided participants with practical knowledge and conceptual clarity. The program is expected to continue over the coming days with further expert-led sessions, hands-on training, and scholarly discussions, ultimately enriching the methodological competencies of all participants and paving the way for impactful future research.

Inauguration Report on the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”

(Hybrid Mode)

Introduction

The Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” was successfully organized from 17th September 2025 onwards in hybrid mode. The workshop was jointly hosted by Southfield College, Darjeeling, West Bengal, J.P. College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi, Tamil Nadu, and the Departments of Chemistry and Department of Home Science, Standard College, Manipur. It was held in collaboration with RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi, the Faculty of Arts & Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil, and the Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu.

The program brought together scholars, researchers, and students across disciplines to enhance their knowledge of research methodology with a special focus on quantitative tools, techniques, and applications. With its hybrid model, the workshop ensured wide participation from both national and international academic communities.

Date: 17th September 2025

Welcome Address

The inaugural session commenced with a warm welcome address by Dr. J. Benet Rajadurai, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Guru Nanak College (Autonomous), Chennai. In his address, Dr. Rajadurai highlighted the objectives of the workshop, emphasizing the importance of quantitative research methods in contemporary academic research. He also stressed the collaborative spirit of the event, which united institutions across states and nations.

Presidential Address

The Presidential Address was delivered by Prof. Dr. A. M. Fazil, Dean, Faculty of Arts and Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil. Prof. Fazil emphasized the necessity of strengthening research capacities in South Asia and beyond, noting that quantitative research provides powerful tools to analyze complex social realities. He expressed hope that the workshop would serve as a platform for academic networking and interdisciplinary dialogue.

Inaugural Address

The Inaugural Address was delivered by Prof. Dr. Sanjay Tewari, Convenor, RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi. Prof. Tewari outlined the significance of methodology in ensuring research validity, reliability, and objectivity. He further underlined the role of quantitative methods in policy formulation, development studies, and applied social sciences. His address set the intellectual tone for the sessions to follow.

Keynote Address

The Keynote Address was given by Prof. Nijamir, Faculty of Arts and Culture, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil. Prof. Nijamir provided an insightful overview of contemporary trends in quantitative research, linking them with emerging technologies and interdisciplinary applications. He encouraged participants to adopt innovative approaches to data collection, analysis, and presentation in their respective fields.

Vote of Thanks

The inaugural day concluded with a Vote of Thanks proposed by Dr. (Hons.) K. Vasudevan, Doctorate in Disaster Management (Humanitarian Assistance), Founder & Managing Director, Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu. Dr. Vasudevan expressed gratitude to all dignitaries, organizing partners, and participants. He appreciated the collaborative efforts of multiple institutions in making this workshop possible and assured continued academic cooperation in future endeavors.

Significance of the Workshop

The workshop is designed to equip researchers with advanced quantitative techniques ranging from data collection to statistical analysis, software applications, and practical case studies. Participants will benefit from expert-led sessions, interactive discussions, and hands-on training modules. The ten-day engagement reflects the growing academic recognition of quantitative methodologies as indispensable tools for producing rigorous, evidence-based research.

Conclusion

The first day of the International Research Methodology Workshop set a constructive foundation for the subsequent sessions. With inspiring addresses from distinguished scholars and administrators, the workshop reaffirmed the importance of methodological rigor in academic inquiry. The collaboration between Indian and Sri Lankan institutions, alongside international experts, highlighted the event's global orientation.

The ten-day program is expected to significantly contribute to the academic and professional growth of participants, fostering future collaborations and strengthening methodological competencies across disciplines.

The Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, Hybrid Mode,
Day 2: on September 18, 2025.

The workshop, jointly organized by Southfield College, Darjeeling, West Bengal; JP College of Arts & Science, Tenkasi, Tamil Nadu; and Standard College, Manipur, in collaboration with RC 25: Sociology of Sports, Indian Sociological Society, New Delhi; South Eastern University of Sri Lanka, Oluvil; and the Integrated Institute of Disaster Management (IIDM), Tamil Nadu, aims to equip participants with a deeper understanding of quantitative research methodologies, their tools, techniques, and applications in various academic and professional fields.

The second day featured two insightful sessions led by distinguished resource persons. Dr. Norby Paul, MSW, PhD, PDF, Honorary Director of Planning and Development of Projects in MMP, Kerala, delivered a comprehensive session on “The Pioneer Role of Review of Literature”. He highlighted the centrality of a well-structured review of literature in identifying research gaps, building strong conceptual frameworks, and establishing the scholarly foundation for any research project. His session emphasized systematic reviewing, critical evaluation, and integrating existing knowledge to strengthen the originality and rigor of research.

In the second session, Dr. Mohd Shahid Ali, Assistant Professor, School of Management, IILM University, Gurugram, Haryana, spoke on “From Hypothesis to Analysis: Statistical Techniques for Research”. He introduced participants to the logical flow from framing hypotheses to applying appropriate statistical tools for empirical validation. The session covered fundamental statistical techniques, their applications in social science and management research, and the use of analytical methods for deriving meaningful interpretations. His practical illustrations enabled participants to understand how statistical rigor enhances the reliability and validity of research outcomes.

Overall, Day 2 of the workshop provided participants with valuable insights into strengthening their research design through a sound review of literature and appropriate statistical analysis, thereby laying a strong foundation for advancing their academic and professional research endeavors.

Prof. Dr. Vasanthi Reena Williams is a distinguished academician and researcher, currently serving as Professor and Head of the Department of Management Studies at Vidya Vikas Institute of Engineering & Technology (VVIET), Mysuru, Karnataka. With a rich academic background and extensive experience in teaching and research, she has made significant contributions to management education and leadership development.

She holds a Ph.D. in Management, along with multiple qualifications including MBA, M.Com, LLB, PGDMM, and DCP, reflecting her comprehensive understanding of business, law, and management disciplines. Her multidisciplinary expertise enables her to provide students with a holistic perspective on contemporary management practices and societal issues.

Prof. Dr. Williams has a long and accomplished career in academia, having previously served as Head of the Post Graduate Department of Commerce at Teresian College, Mysuru. Throughout her career, she has emphasized the integration of theoretical knowledge with practical applications, encouraging students to engage actively in research, critical thinking, and problem-solving.

Her research interests include Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), banking sector dynamics, economic development, microinsurance, and entrepreneurship for sustainable development. She has authored several scholarly articles and conference papers, contributing valuable insights to both academia and industry. Some of her notable works include studies on microinsurance in rural Karnataka, operational e-CRM practices in banking, and entrepreneurship development.

In recognition of her outstanding contributions to education and social service, Prof. Dr. Williams received the MTC Global JN Dutta Outstanding Social Service Award in 2024. She is also an active member of various professional and academic networks, including ResearchGate and Academia.edu, which help her engage with the global research community and share her expertise with students and colleagues alike.

Through her work, Prof. Dr. Williams continues to inspire young scholars, promote research-driven education, and contribute meaningfully to societal development, embodying the role of an academic leader committed to excellence and social responsibility.

Dr. Sebati Malik,
Assistant Professor of Sociology,
Fakir Mohan Autonomous College,
Balasore, Odisha – 756001

Dr. Sebati Malik is an accomplished academic and researcher in the field of Sociology, currently serving as an Assistant Professor at Fakir Mohan Autonomous College, Balasore, Odisha. With a strong commitment to the study of social structures, cultural dynamics, and contemporary societal issues, Dr. Malik has contributed significantly to both teaching and research in the discipline.

Dr. Malik holds advanced degrees in Sociology and has developed expertise in areas such as social change, gender studies, community development, and rural sociology. Through her academic career, she has consistently emphasized the importance of empirical research and critical analysis, guiding students to develop a nuanced understanding of social phenomena.

Her teaching philosophy blends theoretical insights with practical applications, fostering analytical thinking and encouraging students to engage actively with societal challenges. She has mentored undergraduate and postgraduate students, helping them undertake research projects and encouraging the publication of their work in reputed journals.

In addition to her teaching responsibilities, Dr. Malik has participated in seminars, workshops, and conferences, both nationally and internationally, aimed at advancing knowledge in Sociology and promoting research-driven education. She is known for her dedication to academic excellence and her efforts to bridge the gap between sociological theory and practice.

Through her work, Dr. Malik continues to inspire young scholars and contribute to the intellectual growth of her institution and the wider academic community, reinforcing the role of Sociology in understanding and addressing contemporary social issues.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications, in hybrid mode.

Day 3: September 19th, 2025.

The first technical session was delivered by Prof. Dr. Vasanthi Reena Williams, Professor, VVIET, Mysuru, Karnataka, on the theme “Strategies and Methods for Sample Size Determination.” She highlighted the importance of selecting an adequate sample size for ensuring validity and reliability in research findings, while also demonstrating statistical approaches, formulas, and practical tools used for determining sample size in different research contexts. The second session was presented by Dr. Sebatl Malik, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, F.M. Auto College, Balasore, Odisha, on “Principles and Applications of Sampling Techniques in Research.” Dr. Malik provided participants with comprehensive insights into probability and non-probability sampling techniques, their practical relevance, and the challenges of ensuring representativeness in social science research. Both sessions were highly engaging and interactive, allowing participants to gain conceptual clarity as well as applied knowledge on sampling, thereby strengthening their methodological skills for future research endeavors.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” (Hybrid Mode).

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, in hybrid mode.

Day 4-6: September 20th – 22nd, 2025.

The fourth, fifth, and sixth days of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, conducted in hybrid mode, were held from September 20 to September 22, 2025. The resource person for these three sessions was Ms. Shobhana Selvaraj, Assistant Professor, Department of Statistics, Guru Nanak Khalsa College, Matunga, Mumbai, and Doctoral Scholar, Department of Applied Sciences, Indian Institute of Information Technology, Allahabad.

On Day 4 (September 20, 2025), she addressed the topic “Tools and Techniques of Data Collection.” The session emphasized the significance of reliable instruments in gathering accurate data and explored both primary and secondary data sources. She highlighted structured questionnaires, schedules, interviews, and online survey methods, stressing the need to ensure validity, reliability, and ethical standards in data collection.

On Day 5 (September 21, 2025), her lecture on “Data Preparation and Coding” offered participants a clear understanding of how raw data is processed for analysis. She discussed methods for cleaning, coding, and categorizing data, ensuring that errors and inconsistencies are minimized. Practical illustrations on coding open-ended responses and structuring datasets provided participants with hands-on insights.

On Day 6 (September 22, 2025), the focus shifted to “Descriptive Statistics and Visualization.” Ms. Selvaraj explained measures of central tendency, dispersion, and distribution, along with the application of graphs, charts, and diagrams to present research data effectively. The session combined theoretical clarity with practical demonstrations, equipping participants with the skills to summarize and visualize data meaningfully.

Across these three days, the sessions were highly interactive, blending theory with applied techniques, thereby enhancing the participants’ understanding of fundamental statistical processes that form the backbone of quantitative research.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications” (Hybrid Mode).

Dr. Ambati Nageswara Rao
Dean, Research and Publication Division
Director, GNLU Legal Incubation Council
Assistant Professor of Social Work (Social Entrepreneurship)
Gujarat National Law University (GNLU), Gandhinagar, Gujarat

Dr. Ambati Nageswara Rao is a distinguished academician, researcher, and social entrepreneur with a multifaceted career spanning social work, legal incubation, and academic leadership. Currently, he serves as the Dean of the Research and Publication Division and Director of the GNLU Legal Incubation Council at Gujarat National Law University (GNLU), Gandhinagar. He also holds the position of Assistant Professor of Social Work, specializing in Social Entrepreneurship, where he integrates principles of social innovation with practical interventions for sustainable community development.

With a deep commitment to fostering research excellence, Dr. Rao has been instrumental in shaping the research policies and publication standards at GNLU, mentoring both students and faculty in high-impact scholarly work. Under his leadership, the GNLU Legal Incubation Council has become a pivotal platform for nurturing innovative legal and social enterprise projects, enabling law students and young professionals to translate ideas into socially impactful ventures.

Dr. Rao's scholarship intersects law, social entrepreneurship, and community development. He has authored several research papers and contributed to conferences and workshops focusing on social innovation, legal entrepreneurship, and sustainable development. His work emphasizes bridging the gap between academic research and real-world social solutions, advocating for ethical, inclusive, and scalable models of social entrepreneurship.

Passionate about empowering the next generation of changemakers, Dr. Rao actively engages in mentoring students, guiding research projects, and collaborating with governmental and non-governmental organizations to create social value. His multidisciplinary approach, combining social work principles with entrepreneurial strategies, positions him as a thought leader in the field of social innovation and legal enterprise incubation.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, in hybrid mode.
Day 7 & 8: September 23rd & 24th, 2025.

The seventh and eighth days of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, held in hybrid mode, focused on advancing participants’ understanding of inferential statistical tools. The sessions were conducted by Dr. Ambati Nageswara Rao, Dean, Research and Publication Division, Director of the GNLU Legal Incubation Council, and Assistant Professor of Social Work (Social Entrepreneurship), Gujarat National Law University (GNLU), Gandhinagar, Gujarat.

On Day 7 (September 23, 2025), Dr. Rao delivered an in-depth lecture on “Inferential Statistics and Hypothesis Testing, T-tests.” He explained the theoretical foundations of inferential statistics, the role of null and alternative hypotheses, levels of significance, and types of errors in hypothesis testing. Through practical illustrations, he guided participants on conducting one-sample, independent sample, and paired sample t-tests, highlighting their applications in social science and interdisciplinary research.

On Day 8 (September 24, 2025), his session covered “Chi-square Tests, Correlation and Regression.” Dr. Rao elaborated on the use of chi-square tests for testing independence and goodness of fit, demonstrating their relevance in categorical data analysis. He also provided clarity on correlation techniques for measuring relationships between variables and introduced regression methods for predictive analysis. His explanations combined conceptual rigor with hands-on examples, enabling participants to apply these statistical techniques effectively in their own research.

These two sessions were highly insightful, equipping the participants with essential inferential tools to test hypotheses, examine relationships, and draw valid conclusions from their data.

Brief Profile

Dr. Anu Anns Pious

Assistant Professor of Social Work

Indian Institute of Psychology and Research \(IIPR\), Bangalore

Dr. Anu is a dedicated social worker committed to academia and research. She earned her BSc. in Zoology, Microbiology, and Biochemistry, followed by an MSW from Mahatma Gandhi University, Kerala. She completed her MPhil and PhD in Social Work at Christ Deemed to be University, Bangalore, in 2011 and 2024, respectively, and cleared the UGC NET in Social Work. She is currently working as an Assistant Professor of Social Work at the Indian Institute of Psychology and Research (IIPR), Bangalore.

She brings over 7 years of teaching and 8 years of research experience to the academic community. She has published six articles, 1 article is accepted, and has 7 more in progress in both Scopus-indexed and non-indexed journals, focusing on women's health, child maltreatment, psychometric scale development, and academic writing. Additionally, she has shared her findings in national and international conferences. She recently completed a research project titled "Prevalence of Child Maltreatment: A Retrospective Study among Indian Emerging Adults" (2025), which was funded by ASTARA The Mind Clinic, Singapore and Malaysia.

Since 2018, she has been a freelance consultant in Research, Data Analysis, and Academic Writing, assisting 12 PhD scholars from institutions such as Christ University, Jain University, Delhi University, and Mother Teresa Women's University. Her notable consultancy projects include Training needs assessment for the DCPU, Kerala, supported by UNICEF (2022), Development plans for the KJS property (2022), Employee satisfaction survey for KIOCL Ltd., (2022), Perceived trust in socio-political institutions & psychological distress during COVID-19 pandemic (2021), and Building sustainable water harvesting tanks for Susthira (2020).

She serves as a resource person in various training sessions and workshops for students, scholars, and professionals on topics like Research Methodology, SPSS, Scale Development, Participatory Rural Appraisal, Women's Health, Social Work, and Natural Resource Management with several institutions in Bangalore, including Bishop Cotton Women's Christian College, St. Aloysius Degree College, Indian Institute of Psychology, Research, Maharani Arts and Science College, Athmeeya Vidya Peeda, and organizations in Kerala such as the Institute of Management in Government, and the Extension Training Centre.

Proficient in various data analysis and reference management software, she utilizes tools such as SPSS Statistics, Amos, jamovi, NVivo, QDA Minor Lite, EndNote, and MS Excel. She is also adept in multiple academic writing styles, including APA, Vancouver, and Harvard.

As a resourceful and committed professional with strong analytical and communication skills, she demonstrates a collaborative mindset. Her commitment to improving social work education is evident in her active student engagement and ability to create a learning environment focused on both research and practical application.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research

Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications, in hybrid mode.

Day 9 & 10: September 25th & 26th, 2025.

The ninth and tenth days of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, conducted in hybrid mode, focused on consolidating participants’ skills in data handling, research ethics, and report writing. The sessions were led by Dr. Anu Anns Pious, MSW, MPhil, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Social Work, Indian Institute of Psychology & Research (IIPR), Bangalore, Karnataka.

On Day 9 (September 25, 2025), Dr. Pious conducted an engaging session on “Data Interpretation and Research Ethics.” She emphasized the importance of accurate and unbiased interpretation of data, guiding participants through techniques to make meaningful inferences from quantitative results. She also highlighted ethical considerations in research, including informed consent, confidentiality, and integrity in reporting, ensuring that participants understood the responsibility of researchers toward study subjects and the wider academic community.

On Day 10 (September 26, 2025), the focus shifted to “Report Writing.” Dr. Pious elaborated on structuring a research report, presenting data and findings effectively, and adhering to academic standards for citations and referencing. She discussed the significance of clarity, coherence, and precision in writing and shared practical tips for drafting reports that are both academically rigorous and reader-friendly.

These final sessions of the workshop effectively equipped participants with essential skills to interpret research data responsibly, maintain ethical standards, and produce high-quality research reports, thus completing their comprehensive training in quantitative research methodology.

Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, in hybrid mode.

Day 10: September 25th & 26th, 2025.

Valedictory Session

The Valedictory and Feedback Session of the Ten-Day International Research Methodology Workshop on “Quantitative Research Methods: Tools, Techniques, and Applications”, conducted in hybrid mode, marked the formal conclusion of the workshop on September 26, 2025. The session provided an opportunity to reflect on the knowledge and skills gained over the ten days and to acknowledge the contributions of all resource persons, organizers, and participants.

During the session, participants shared their feedback on the workshop’s content, structure, and delivery. The feedback highlighted the practical relevance of the sessions, the clarity of explanations, and the interactive nature of the training. Participants expressed that the hands-on examples, case illustrations, and step-by-step guidance on statistical techniques, sampling methods, data preparation, and report writing significantly enhanced their understanding and confidence in conducting quantitative research.

Certificates of participation were distributed to all eligible participants, recognizing their engagement and commitment. The organizing team appreciated the active involvement of participants and encouraged them to apply the knowledge and skills acquired in their ongoing and future research endeavors. The session concluded on a positive and motivating note, reinforcing the workshop’s goal of strengthening research competencies among scholars and practitioners in the field.

OFFLINE EVENT

Offline Event Report
Date: 17th September 2025
Venue: South Field College, Darjeeling

Event Overview:

South Field College, Darjeeling, organized an offline session on 17th September 2025, focusing on quantitative research and the publication process. The event aimed to equip participants with a comprehensive understanding of research methodologies, the importance of quantitative research, and the step-by-step process of scholarly publication. The session witnessed active participation from students, research scholars, and faculty members interested in enhancing their research skills.

Resource Persons and Sessions:

Prof. Dr. M.M. Fazil, Dean, Faculty of Arts & Culture, Oluvil, Sri Lanka

Prof. Dr. Fazil delivered an insightful lecture on “The Need for Quantitative Research.” He emphasized the critical role of quantitative methods in modern research, highlighting their utility in generating reliable data, testing hypotheses, and ensuring research rigor. Prof. Fazil elaborated on how quantitative research enables systematic analysis and interpretation of numerical data, which forms the backbone of evidence-based decision-making in academic and professional fields.

Key points from his session included:

- The relevance of quantitative research across disciplines, including social sciences, education, and economics.
- Various statistical tools and techniques for collecting and analyzing quantitative data.
- The importance of maintaining accuracy, objectivity, and reproducibility in research findings.
- Practical examples illustrating the application of quantitative methods in real-world research.

Prof. Fazil also encouraged participants to adopt a structured approach to research, combining both quantitative and qualitative methods wherever appropriate to enhance the depth and credibility of their studies.

Prof. Nijamir conducted a detailed session on “Research and Publication.” He outlined the systematic process of conducting research, emphasizing each stage from conceptualization to dissemination. His step-by-step approach included:

1. Topic Selection: Identifying research gaps and formulating clear, focused research questions.
2. Literature Review: Conducting an extensive review of existing studies to contextualize the research problem.
3. Methodology: Selecting suitable research designs, data collection methods, and sampling techniques.
4. Data Presentation: Organizing, analyzing, and presenting data effectively using tables, charts, and graphs.
5. Publication Process: Guidance on preparing manuscripts, selecting journals, and navigating peer review.

Mr. Nijamar highlighted the importance of ethical research practices, proper citation, and adherence to academic integrity. He also encouraged participants to actively engage with contemporary research trends and emerging methodologies to stay updated in their respective fields. The offline event at South Field College was highly informative and motivational. Participants gained valuable insights into the significance of quantitative research, effective research strategies, and the process of academic publication. The sessions facilitated a better understanding of how systematic research contributes to knowledge creation and professional growth. The event successfully strengthened the research skills of attendees and inspired them to undertake rigorous, high-quality research in their academic pursuits.

Outcome:

- Participants developed a clearer understanding of quantitative research methods and their applications.
- Attendees learned the stepwise approach to conducting research and publishing scholarly work.
- The event encouraged networking among research scholars and faculty, fostering collaboration and exchange of ideas

WHY IS THEORY IMPORTANT TO KNOW.

A theory is your guide map. It organises facts and steps, explains how the pieces fit or do not, and tells you what to do next.

If you know the Theories in Research

- Reveal paradigm shifts: Identifies key turns (e.g., positivist → post-positivist → interpretivist/critical).
- Prevent mismatch: Avoids using methods that contradict the study's theoretical stance.
- Guide approach selection: Helps choose quantitative, qualitative, or mixed designs suitable for the problem.
- Ensure contextual fit: Tune design to the cultural, historical, and institutional conditions of the field site.
