FAQs

Does getting mail really make people happy? Duh. 14 out of 15 people agreed in an anonymous survey.

Are there stamps in each box? Heck yeah! Each box has enough postage for each piece.

When does each box get mailed? Ideally it will be mailed the first Friday of each month!

Why is there only a limited number of boxes available? For the next six months Constellation Ink will run in beta mode, and the lucky participants will be asked to share feedback to build the best possible subscription box service yet.

Where do the postcards come from? Each kit contains a combination of cards and/or postcards. Some postcards are created especially for Constellation Ink with images from artists known by us, some are found in local shops and others are sourced from the internets!

I make cards! Could I put them in your box? Perhaps! Please email info@constellationink.com and we can figure out if we can work together!

I make art! Can I put it on a postcard? Perhaps! Please email info@constellationink.com and we can figure out if we can work together!

What's Inside

This is not your mother's scrapbooking kit. Every box features five curated, mailbox-ready pieces. Cards range from modern to quirky and postcards combine featured, high-quality prints from artists we love and eclectic pieces we source from travels near and far. Even better, every box arrives supplied with exactly enough postage to send each piece- if you can bear to part with it!
