Souq Al-Mubarakia is one of the oldest and most famous traditional markets in Kuwait. It has a long and rich history that goes back more than 200 years. Before oil was discovered, the souq was the heart of trade in Kuwait. Traders sold spices, perfumes, clothes, dates, and pearls, and people from different places came to buy and sell goods. It was a busy and lively centre where families met, talked, and shared news.

Walking through Souq Al-Mubarakia today feels like stepping back in time. The narrow streets, old-style shops, and wooden roofs show how life looked in the past. Many shops still sell traditional items such as incense, oud, handmade jewellery, carpets, and Kuwaiti sweets. Visitors can also enjoy delicious local food like machboos, kebabs, and fresh bread from traditional ovens. The smells, colours, and sounds make the souq a great experience.

Although Kuwait has many modern malls now, Souq Al-Mubarakia is still special. People visit it to enjoy its warm atmosphere, friendly shopkeepers, and cultural charm. It reminds both locals and tourists of Kuwait's history and traditions. The souq is not just a place to shop; it is a place to experience the spirit of old Kuwait.

B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Every school has a science lab where students can enjoy science. Mr. Hamad is a science teacher who loves science. He wants his students to love it too. He believes that safety is important in a science lab.

In Mr. Hamad's lab, experiments could include dangerous materials, so following safety rules is needed to avoid accidents and injuries. As soon as the students get into the lab, he makes sure they know what to do and how to stay safe. He starts with a smile, handing out safety goggles. Next, he asks students to wear lab coats to keep clothes clean and tidy.

It is important for students to listen carefully to their teacher's instructions before they start experiments. Mr. Hamad usually tells students what to do step by step. They should never taste or eat anything in the lab because some materials might be dangerous. Students should also remember, if they spill something, they should tell Mr. Hamad right away so he can help clean it up safely. They shouldn't run or play in the lab because it is a place for learning and discovery, not for running races. By following these rules, students can have lots of fun exploring and learning in the science lab while staying safe.
