VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

16

Having a pet can be one of the most interesting experiences in life. Pets, such as fish, cats, or rabbits, offer companionship and joy. Even birds make wonderful pets with their vibrant colours, musical sounds, and lively personalities. They are highly intelligent and friendly. Additionally, pets can provide love, comfort and entertainment. They also offer several important benefits for our health.

First, pets are excellent companions. They can help reduce feelings of loneliness and depression. When we come home after a long day, a shiny golden fish or a playful cat can brighten our mood and make us happy. The bond we share with our pets can make us feel loved and supported.

Second, owning a pet teaches us responsibility. Taking care of a pet means feeding them, giving them fresh water, and making sure they get exercise. We also need to clean them. These tasks help us learn to care for others, which is an important life skill.

Third, pets like cats, rabbits, and birds can encourage a more active lifestyle. For example, cats love to chase toys, climb, and jump, so playing with them keeps you moving. Rabbits need space to hop around and enjoy running through tunnels or playing with toys. Even birds, like parrots, enjoy games that get you moving. This can improve our physical health and also boost our mood.

In addition to that, pets can help us connect with other people. Talking about your pet is a great way to start a conversation, whether it is sharing funny cat stories or giving tips on rabbit care. Even a neighbour might stop to ask about your pet, leading to a new friendship. Pets bring people together by giving us something to talk about and share.

Finally, studies show that having a pet can have positive effects on our health. Pets can lower blood pressure and reduce stress, which can lead to a healthier and happier life. If you are considering getting pets, think about all the joy they can bring to your life!

A- From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (6x2=12 Marks)

28. The best title for this passage could be:
- How Pets Climb Trees
 - Why Pets Need Exercise
 - The Challenges of Keeping Pets
 - The Benefits of Having Pets
29. The underlined word " brighten " in the 2nd paragraph is closest in meaning to:
- damage
 - improve
 - kick
 - hurt
30. The underlined word "They" in the 1st paragraph refers to:
- birds
 - colours
 - sounds
 - personalities
31. Pets help people connect with others by:
- avoiding making new friendships.
 - stopping giving tips on rabbit care.
 - sharing funny stories about their pets.
 - keeping people busy at home.

32. According to the passage, ONE of the following statements about pets is FALSE:

- a. Pets increase stress.
- b. Pets lower blood pressure.
- c. Pets lead to a healthier and happier life.
- d. Pets bring joy, love and entertainment.

33. The purpose of the writer in writing this passage is to:

- a. describe why rabbits need to hop and jump.
- b. give information about the importance of having pets.
- c. encourage us to go outside and get some exercise.
- d. entertain the reader with a funny story about birds and cats.

B- With reference to the passage, answer the following questions: (2X2=4 Marks)

34. What are our responsibilities towards pets?

35. How do cats encourage their owners to stay active?

.....

(VII- Summary Making (6 Marks)

6

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Organising our time is essential for achieving our goals. One effective way to do this is to make a list of the most important tasks. Another helpful idea is to set clear goals. Make sure that your goals are specific and realistic. Using time blocks is also a great method. This means you choose certain times to work on different tasks. For example, you might work on homework for one hour, then take a break. Finally, try to limit distractions. Find out what distracts you, like your phone or noise, and try to reduce using them. By using these tips, you can organise your time.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the passage above in an answer to the following question :

How can we organise our time?

VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow.

16

During the covid-19 pandemic lockdowns, most of us watched a little too much TV, exercised a little less, and ate a little more! But some of us discovered a little bit more about ourselves. Meet Massimo, the 11-year-old baker who has found his passion for baking during the lockdowns and has brought Kuwait some of the most delicious croissants that we have ever tasted!

Massimo was born in Kuwait and attends the French School. He is a regular kid who enjoys science at school, loves swimming, sailing and playing football. But deep down, Massimo is a young boy who has been inspired by his grandmother and her cooking. While getting bored during the lockdowns, he tried his hand at baking. He chose to start baking over other types of cooking because his family was unable to get fresh bread and corrossions from the bakery during the lockdowns.

Out of kindness, Massimo decided to share his corrossions and bread with his neighbours. His neighbours encouraged him to sell the baked goods on Instagram which spread like wildfire. To keep up with the demand, Massimo and his family had to buy a professional oven. The traditional home ovens were just not meeting the demand, nor were they giving the level of crispy perfection that Massimo was after.

Massimo now makes impressive pizzas, cookies, loaves of bread, and corrossions. Cookies and corrossions are the most popular items on Massimo's menu. Customers often tell him that they felt as if they were in Paris with the delicious pastries.

Although Massimo doesn't know what he wants to be when he's older, it is obvious that he is a talented young chef with a bright future ahead of him in whatever he decides to do!

For now, along with all his hobbies, Massimo loves holidaying in his home-town of Corsica Island in France, where his favourite pastimes are climbing trees, swimming in the river, and all sorts of outdoor activities.

A. From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer. (6X2=12 Marks)

28. The best title for this passage is:
- The French School
 - The Kind Grandmother
 - The Talented Young Chef
 - The Traditional Home Oven

31. Massimo's neighbours encouraged him to:
- sell the baked goods on Instagram.
 - share his corrossions and bread with his family.
 - bake his corrossions using a traditional home oven.
 - replace the professional oven with a traditional one.
32. According to the 2nd paragraph, all of the following statements about Massimo are TRUE EXCEPT:
- He is a regular kid who enjoys science at school.
 - He has been inspired by his grandmother's cooking.
 - During the lockdowns, he chose to start baking bread over cooking.
 - He could get fresh bread from the bakery during the lockdowns.

33. The purpose of the writer in writing this passage is to:

- a. tell the reader an inspiring story about a young baker.
- b. persuade the reader to travel to Corsica Island in France.

When I say 'English grammar' to you, how do you feel? Stressed about getting it right? Lots of people feel as if they should study English grammar. But they don't really know why. The truth is that grammar is important for learning any language for many reasons. It is important to learn grammar because it helps learners understand the English language better. Grammar enables them to understand how sentences are formed. It also allows them to write good essays and articles. Moreover, it can help learners to understand what others are trying to communicate and how they can respond appropriately.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the passage above in answer to the following question:

Why is it important to learn grammar?

VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow.

16

During the covid-19 pandemic lockdowns, most of us watched a little too much TV, exercised a little less, and ate a little more! But some of us discovered a little bit more about ourselves. Meet Massimo, the 11-year-old baker who has found his passion for baking during the lockdowns and has brought Kuwait some of the most delicious croissants that we have ever tasted!

Massimo was born in Kuwait and attends the French School. He is a regular kid who enjoys science at school, loves swimming, sailing and playing football. But deep down, Massimo is a young boy who has been inspired by his grandmother and her cooking. While getting bored during the lockdowns, he tried his hand at baking. He chose to start baking over other types of cooking because his family was unable to get fresh bread and corrossions from the bakery during the lockdowns.

Out of kindness, Massimo decided to share his corrossions and bread with his neighbours. His neighbours encouraged him to sell the baked goods on Instagram which spread like wildfire. To keep up with the demand, Massimo and his family had to buy a professional oven. The traditional home ovens were just not meeting the demand, nor were they giving the level of crispy perfection that Massimo was after.

Massimo now makes impressive pizzas, cookies, loaves of bread, and corrossions. Cookies and corrossions are the most popular items on Massimo's menu. Customers often tell him that they felt as if they were in Paris with the delicious pastries.

Although Massimo doesn't know what he wants to be when he's older, it is obvious that he is a talented young chef with a bright future ahead of him in whatever he decides to do!

For now, along with all his hobbies, Massimo loves holidaying in his home-town of Corsica Island in France, where his favourite pastimes are climbing trees, swimming in the river, and all sorts of outdoor activities.

When I say 'English grammar' to you, how do you feel? Stressed about getting it right? Lots of people feel as if they should study English grammar. But they don't really know why. The truth is that grammar is important for learning any language for many reasons. It is important to learn grammar because it helps learners understand the English language better. Grammar enables them to understand how sentences are formed. It also allows them to write good essays and articles. Moreover, it can help learners to understand what others are trying to communicate and how they can respond appropriately.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the passage above in answer to the following question:

Why is it important to learn grammar?

Your answer must include the following points:

- Helping learners understand the English language better
- Enabling learners to understand how sentences are formed

VI. Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Located in the heart of the city, Al-Masjid Al-Kabir is the biggest official masjid in Kuwait, which means that official religious events are held in this masjid only. It can house up to 10,000 men in the main prayer hall and up to 1000 women in the separate hall for women. It also contains a library with Islamic reference books and documents. It is internationally renowned for its Islamic architecture, and it has become one of Kuwait's most treasured landmarks. Al-Masjid Al-Kabir's architectural style bears a resemblance to the local characteristics of the desert and the Gulf. Indeed, the builders and designers have put a lot of effort in creating this Masjid starting the project way back in 1979 and finally completing it seven years later in 1986 at a cost of about KD 14 million.

Located at the heart of the Masjid, the main prayer hall is in fact the largest hall with 4 columns. The main hall is exclusively used by male worshipers. It is 70 meters wide on all sides and has lighting provided by 144 windows with 21 wooden doors. It is elegant with natural light creeping in and also four magnificent chandeliers hanging from the roof (each weighing the same as a car). There is a 5-level car parking which can hold up to 600 cars. In Ramadan, the multi-leveled park is made clean, carpeted and air conditioned for worshipers. It is used as prayer halls to provide accommodation for them.

Muslim visitors can visit the Masjid every weekday morning at 9.00 am and can have a guided tour free of charge. Visitors will find out many facts and figures about the building and the Islamic way of life. The colour scheme is blue and beige- taken from the colours of the surroundings, which is very pleasant and soothing to the eye, particularly for those night worshipers. Its dome is decorated with Asma Al-hosna of Allah. These words were written and designed by Hamid Haddad who is one of the most important calligraphers in the Middle East.

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Our planet is a beautiful home, but it faces serious environmental problems such as pollution, and global warming. Growing more trees and plants is the most effective way to help the Earth recover and flourish. By increasing green lands, we improve the environment, support wildlife, and create healthier spaces for everyone.

Trees are often called the "lungs of the Earth" because they produce oxygen and absorb carbon dioxide. As cities and factories grow, pollution and the amount of poisonous gases in the atmosphere rise, which causes global warming. However, planting trees helps reduce this harmful gas, cools the air, and gives us the oxygen we need to breathe.

Green spaces are also important for wildlife. Many animals lose their homes when forests are cut down or when land is cleared for buildings. When we plant more trees, we create habitats where animals can live and grow. This will make them survive longer.

In addition to environmental benefits, planting more green lands improves our lives in many ways. Trees and plants make our surroundings more beautiful and peaceful. They provide shade on hot days and reduce noise in busy areas. Studies show that spending time in green spaces can lower stress and improve mental health. For students, green schoolyards can even help improve focus and creativity.

Planting more trees is a task we can all take part in. Schools can organize tree-planting events, and communities can create parks and gardens. Even small actions, like planting flowers in your yard or keeping a plant indoors, make a difference. These efforts add up to create a greener and healthier world.

In conclusion, growing more plants is an investment in the future of our planet. By taking small steps today, we can fight global warming, protect wildlife, and create a better, cleaner environment for ourselves and future generations. Together, we can make the Earth bloom again.

A- From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (6x2=12 marks)

VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

16

White tea is made from the Camellia plant. White tea may have first appeared in English publication in 1876 where it was categorised as a black tea, because the leaves are not steamed first as in the making of green tea. Actually, white tea is harvested before the tea plant's leaves are fully open, when the young buds are still covered with fine white hairs. This is where white tea gets its name. Green tea and black tea are also made from the Camellia plant. However different processing methods give them their unique flavours and smell. White tea is the least processed of the three teas. Because of this, it retains a high amount of antioxidants. This is thought to be one reason why studies have linked white tea with many health benefits.

White tea may help reduce the risk of heart disease, combat skin aging and even help with weight loss. A study found that white tea extract can help protect animal nerve cells against damage. Another study found that white tea powder was very effective at reducing stress and lowering blood pressure. White tea may reduce blood sugar and help prevent and decrease the symptoms of diabetes as well.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in the United States. It is strongly linked to a variety of factors. These include diet, exercise and lifestyle habits like smoking. In an analysis of five studies, scientists discovered that people who drank three cups or more of tea per day had a 21% lower risk of heart disease. While these results suggest white tea may help lower your risk of heart disease, it is also important to make other lifestyle changes for a healthy heart. These include eating more fruits and vegetables, exercising regularly and getting plenty of rest. White tea is a great source of fluoride. Several studies have shown that this compound can help fight bacteria which cause plaque on teeth and thus it can prevent tooth decay.

VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

16

When most people decide to buy food, they go to a grocery store. A grocery store is a retail store that sells food. The person who controls a grocery store is called a grocer. There are a range of different types and sizes of grocery stores. Some are small community stores with a limited range of items. Other grocery stores are large with vast selection of food items. Grocery stores sell many different kinds of food in just one store. They may also sell household cleaning and laundry supplies and hygiene items like soap and toothpaste. They may also contain a pharmacy. Some grocery stores also carry household goods such as aluminum foil and cleaning supplies. A grocery store is a convenient place to shop for the kitchen tools and beyond.

Despite the ease of shopping in a grocery store, some people decide to buy their food from other places. Farmers' markets are one alternative to grocery stores. At a farmers' market, local farmers sell the foods they grow to customers. The foods they sell often include fresh fruits, vegetables, and meats. Most of these foods are freshly harvested with no artificial additions. There are several ways in which farmers' markets are less appropriate than grocery stores, however. For example, many farmers do not accept credit cards or checks as payment for their goods. What is more, most farmers' markets are only open for business once or twice each week. While this often prevents some shoppers, others are willing to accept these difficulties in exchange for the fresh and local food found at farmers' market.

Deciding whether to shop for food at grocery stores or at farmers' markets is a personal choice. This choice reflects a person's values about life and about food. Those who value convenience and variety will probably choose to shop at a grocery store. People who value freshness and enjoy supporting local farmers probably will prefer the farmers' market. Fortunately, most communities provide options for both kinds of shoppers.

A) From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (6X2=12 Marks)

28. The main idea of the last paragraph is:
- It is important to buy food
 - Modern grocery stores are convenient
 - Some people decide to buy their food from other places
 - Shopping at a grocery store or a farmer market is a personal choice
29. The underlined word " convenient " in the 1st paragraph is closest in meaning to:
- tasty
 - difficult
 - suitable
 - fierce
30. The underlined word " they " in the 2nd paragraph refers to:
- foods
 - customers
 - grocery stores
 - local farmers
31. Farmers' markets are one alternative to buy:
- hygiene items
 - kitchen tools
 - fresh fruits
 - Laundry supplies
32. According to the 2nd paragraph, all of the following statements about farmers' markets are TRUE EXCEPT:
- Foods are freshly harvested.
 - No artificial additions are added.
 - They are open once or twice each week.
 - They accept credit cards as payment for goods.

33. The purpose of the writer for writing this passage is to:
- compare between two places where people buy food.
 - show people how large grocery stores are.
 - encourage people to buy from farmers markets.
 - explain why smart people shop at grocery stores.

B) Answer the following questions: (2 x 2=4 Marks)

34. What household goods do grocery stores sell?

They sell household goods such as aluminum foil and cleaning supplies. / kitchen tools

35. Why do some people buy from farmers' markets?

For the fresh and local food found at farmers' markets

Any reasonable answers related to the passage are accepted.
