The changing of the seasons is a fascinating natural phenomenon. As the Earth goes around the Sun, different parts of the planet receive different amounts of sunlight throughout the year. This variation causes the seasons to change, each bringing its own unique weather patterns and features.

Spring is the season that follows winter. It is a time when the weather starts to warm up, and the days become longer. Trees and plants begin to grow, and flowers start to appear. Many animals, such as birds and butterflies, return from their winter journeys. Spring is often seen as a season of renewal and growth. It's a time when the world seems to come alive after the cold months of winter.

Summer comes after spring and is known for its warm temperatures and long, sunny days. People often go on vacations, have picnics, and spend time outdoors enjoying activities like swimming and hiking. Summer is a popular time for families to travel and explore new places. In many areas, summer also brings occasional thunderstorms and heavy rains, which help to keep the environment rich and green.

Autumn, or fall, follows summer and is characterised by cooler temperatures and shorter days. The leaves on trees change colour. They turn into red, orange, and yellow before falling to the ground. Autumn is a time for preparing for the coming winter, as animals gather food and people start to use their warm clothing again.

Winter is the final season of the year. It is known for its cold temperatures, and in many places, it brings snow and ice, so people often spend more time indoors. Winter days are shorter. This season is a time for cozy fires and hot drinks. Although it can be chilly, winter also offers beautiful snowy landscapes and opportunities for winter sports like skiing and ice skating.

Each season brings its own special experiences and beauty. As the year progresses, people adapt to the changes in weather and take part in seasonal activities that they enjoy. The cycle of the seasons is a reminder of the changing world around us.

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

For two months, I have been trying to decide who makes the best ice cream. I have narrowed it down to my four favourite manufacturers: Randolph Farms, Goodies, Disco, and Twinkle.

Let's start with Randolph Farms. Randolph Farms makes very good ice cream. They have lots of different flavours, but this doesn't really matter to me. That's because I always get coffee flavour. They make the best coffee ice cream in the world. I've never had hot coffee as a drink but people tell me that Randolph Farms coffee ice cream tastes just like the real thing. Also, Randolph Farms use all natural ingredients to make their ice cream. This is a good idea, I think.

Second, we have Goodies. Goodies makes excellent ice cream. Like Randolph Farms, Goodies uses all natural ingredients. They only make three different flavours—strawberry, vanilla, and chocolate— but they make them very well. The strawberry is amazing. Every bite of it reminds me of the strawberries that I used to pick behind my old house. The vanilla is wonderful. It is very smooth and has a refreshing, creamy taste. The chocolate is outstanding. It is made with real cocoa beans from Bolivia. I didn't know where Bolivia is so I decided to look for it on a map. After hunting awhile, I discovered that it is in South America! That's a long way to go to get cocoa, so it must be good. I would say that the only problem with Goodies ice cream is that they only make three different flavours.

Third, we have Disco. Disco ice cream is okay. They don't have many good flavours. Actually, the only Disco flavour I like is Bubblegum. It is vanilla ice cream with little chunks of bubblegum in it. After you eat the ice cream, you can blow bubbles with the gum. That's pretty fun.

Finally, there is Twinkle. Twinkle ice cream is of average quality. The only good thing about Twinkle is that it is relatively inexpensive. You can buy a whole carton of Twinkle ice cream for $4.50. That's only two weeks' allowance for me.

A- From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (6x2=12 marks)

28. The best title for this passage could be:
- Strawberry, Vanilla, Chocolate, and Bubblegum Too!
 - The Top Ice Cream in Bolivia
 - The Finest Ice Cream in South America
 - Picking the Best Ice Cream Manufacturer
29. The underlined word "chunks" in the 4th paragraph is closest in meaning to:
- courses
 - pieces
 - systems
 - beans
30. The underlined word "their" in the 2nd paragraph refers to:
- people
 - ingredients
 - different flavours
 - Randolph Farms
31. The only problem with Goodies ice cream is that:
- they make only three different flavours.
 - their vanilla is smooth with creamy taste.
 - their chocolate is made with real cocoa beans.
 - they prepare amazing strawberry ice cream.
32. All the following statements about Randolph Farms are TRUE EXCEPT:
- They have lots of different flavours.
 - They serve hot coffee with their ice cream.
 - They make the best coffee ice cream in the world.

33. The purpose of the writer for writing this passage is to:

- a. encourage us to eat ice cream with bubblegum.
- b. show us how to find places on a map.
- c. convince us to try one flavour of ice cream.

VI- Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

For two months, I have been trying to decide who makes the best ice cream. I have narrowed it down to my four favourite manufacturers: Randolph Farms, Goodies, Disco, and Twinkle.

Let's start with Randolph Farms. Randolph Farms makes very good ice cream. They have lots of different flavours, but this doesn't really matter to me. That's because I always get coffee flavour. They make the best coffee ice cream in the world. I've never had hot coffee as a drink but people tell me that Randolph Farms coffee ice cream tastes just like the real thing. Also, Randolph Farms use all natural ingredients to make their ice cream. This is a good idea, I think.

Second, we have Goodies. Goodies makes excellent ice cream. Like Randolph Farms, Goodies uses all natural ingredients. They only make three different flavours—strawberry, vanilla, and chocolate—but they make them very well. The strawberry is amazing. Every bite of it reminds me of the strawberries that I used to pick behind my old house. The vanilla is wonderful. It is very smooth and has a refreshing, creamy taste. The chocolate is outstanding. It is made with real cocoa beans from Bolivia. I didn't know where Bolivia is so I decided to look for it on a map. After hunting awhile, I discovered that it is in South America! That's a long way to go to get cocoa, so it must be good. I would say that the only problem with Goodies ice cream is that they only make three different flavours.

Third, we have Disco. Disco ice cream is okay. They don't have many good flavours. Actually, the only Disco flavour I like is Bubblegum. It is vanilla ice cream with little chunks of bubblegum in it. After you eat the ice cream, you can blow bubbles with the gum. That's pretty fun.

Finally, there is Twinkle. Twinkle ice cream is of average quality. The only good thing about Twinkle is that it is relatively inexpensive. You can buy a whole carton of Twinkle ice cream for $4.50. That's only two weeks' allowance for me.

A- From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (6x2=12 marks)

- Strawberry, Vanilla, Chocolate, and Bubblegum Too!

VI. Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

William Henry Gates was born in 1955 in Seattle, USA. Everyone called him Bill. Bill was a very active child. He would rock for hours on his rocking horse. Years later in business meetings, Bill was known for rocking back and forth in his chair. He said it helped him think.

Bill Gates was the smallest boy in his seventh-grade class at Lakeside School which was then an all-boys school for grades seven through twelve. Teachers at Lakeside worked hard to help students develop their interest. Bill became excellent at math and science, but he had not found his special interest yet.

One spring day in 1968, a teacher took Bill and some classmates to the new computer room. Actually, there was no computer in the computer room! At that time, personal computers did not exist. There were only large mainframe computers that cost millions of dollars. Not even a private school like Lakeside could afford one. So, Lakeside had bought the next best thing - a Teletype machine. At first glance, it looked like a big electric typewriter. Beside it was a telephone that connected the machine to a mainframe computer in downtown Seattle.

The teacher showed the boys how to type a command. The Teletype started punching holes on a long spool of paper tape. Soon the teacher's message was speeding through telephone wires to the computer several miles away. In a little while, the machine typed back the answer that it received from the computer. Bill was amazed at what a computer could do! He started to spend all his free time in the computer room. He read every computer manual he could find, and he learned computer languages, such as BASIC. A computer language is a code used to 'talk' to computers.

Several other Lakeside boys became hooked on computers, too. The boys learned from each other as they went along. Lakeside teachers had planned to learn about computers and then teach the kids. However, it worked the other way round. Bill and his friends became the experts. Then they taught the teachers! At Lakeside, Bill Gates had discovered his life passion.
