EXPERIENCE

UX/UI INTEGRATIVE PROJECT - 2024

BandApp Project

I developed BandApp, an app designed to connect musicians, from ideation to a high-fidelity functional prototype. The project involved user research, persona definition, wireframe creation, and prototyping in Figma. I focused on enhancing usability through iterations based on user testing. Additionally, I documented the entire process, from initial research to the final design, to share insights and foster collaboration with other professionals.

Full project and functional prototype available at:
