Dear Prayer Warriors,

six new converts! The AWANA year started up again in September and continues to grow. The Lord has also blessed as some in the congregation have been in need of work and were able to find employment!

Building Update: The permit from the Ministry of Tourism has finally been approved! This leaves us only one final permit short of being able to begin building. Please pray for the final permit. This process has certainly been, long, tedious, and taught us much patience.

Family Update: Toward the end of September, Flor was called in for her US Citizenship interview. They told her she needed to wait as they continue to investigate her case. That means, more waiting. It was recommended by her immigration lawyer that she stay in the U.S. until they make a decision (the lawyer said she should hear from them within a couple of weeks). Since they did not say how much longer until they decide, the boys are in Texas with her and Matt will be travelling back and forth every month, until the case is resolved. Please be in prayer for this as well. Again, this process has been long, tedious, and has taught us much patience.

We will certainly continue to keep you all updated as things progress. Thank you all from the bottoms of our hearts for all of your prayers and support.

God bless all of You
