Merry Christmas to all of you friends seeing this video today! I hope most of you don't see it straight away, being busy with family and friends instead of being online. We are all too aware of the preciousness of that privilege with this being our first Christmas holiday with family for several years. What a blessing!

Patti mentioned to me this morning the feeling of missing something: all of our annual celebrations with our Welsh folks - the joy of shared blessings during the past year as well as the hurts and losses sustained. We pray God's best blessings upon them as they celebrate in our absence.

The past few months here we have travelled many miles reporting to supporting churches in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Ohio, and Michigan. Many of our friends are excited with us in what the new year, Lord willing, holds in store for us: church planting in small town Iowa and/or Nebraska. We wish that we could go ahead and start now but realise that would not be the right thing to do.

Therefore, with the start of 2026, we are scheduled to be on the road again. The first Sunday we're to be in Kimball, Nebraska, and we'll be reporting in Kansas before making the trip southeast to be in Florida before the end of the month and then getting to Georgia. The spring will see us in South Carolina, again in Texas, and New Mexico and probably some places that have slipped my mind. There are still open dates in my pocket diary, so some of you may be hearing from me soon (and let's be honest, some of you are just hard to reach, but I will persist). If you cannot have us in for whatever reason, we understand, but maybe we could arrange some sort of Zoom call with your church. We did that a few times from Wales, so it should be doable from here.

Faithful friends, thank you for partnering with us in the Lord's work all these years. And again, if you have any questions about the direction we are heading, please contact me via email at [t Wheeler1961@yahoo.com](mailto:t Wheeler1961@yahoo.com) or text or phone me on (402) 394-4981. I'll hold up this card so you can see them. Those on Facebook know how to reach me via Messenger.

Beloved of God, may we all find many who have ears to hear in this coming year of 2026. God bless and keep you all and we look forward to seeing many of you soon.
