Dear Prayer Partners,

Have you encountered persecution in your neighborhood, workplace, or even within your own family? How can you find comfort and relief? David in Psalm 25:3-5 tells us, "Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be ashamed which transgress without cause. Shew me thy ways, O LORD; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day." David was discouraged by nameless enemies. Yet his discouragement was met by confident trust and consistent theology. The Lord is completely trustworthy.

In late 2019 the Covid19 virus spread throughout the world. This was and is not the end of the world. We all need to step back, take a deep breath, and realize that God is still in control. It is important not to give up on God when things seem to be all wrong. Sometimes we have to trust God when we don't see the benefits, the blessings, and the accompaniments of our faith.

The attendance in many churches has dropped because some members for whatever reason don't walk with the Lord. The holiday which marks the resurrection of our Lord falls on April 20th this year and we must never forget that the Great Commission has not changed. We are still ordered to be ambassadors for the Savior and to go into all the world with the gospel message. We must be faithful to the ONE who has saved us and sent us to serve and glorify Him both among the nations and in our neighborhoods. Always remember that we have to learn to trust God in the dark when there seems to be no clearness and God seems to be incomprehensible.

Thank you for your prayers and financial support during these difficult times in which we all live. The Zoom classes will begin on March 18th. Please keep these classes in your prayers.

Unworthily His,

Wendell Hiers
