From My Ministries:

Dear Friends and Supporters,

Greetings from San Pedro de Macoris! With the first quarter at Las Palmas Christian school wrapped up, I'm grateful to share some updates on the work God is doing here and the journey ahead.

This school year has brought both blessings and challenges. After teaching solely English for the past three years, I'm now also teaching science—a transition that's stretching me in new ways. Although it's challenging to step out of my comfort zone, classes are going well, and I'm encouraged by how God is using this experience to broaden my perspective. I pray each day for opportunities to share Jesus with my students, knowing He can use every interaction to plant seeds. In particular, I feel a strong calling to connect with some of the girls in a deeper way. Please join me in praying for the chance to disciple or mentor them, offering guidance and encouragement for their spiritual journeys.

The church services in Ramon Santana are also going well, with steady attendance and a spirit of unity. Watching the congregation come together each week is a blessing, and we're hopeful for even more growth in the months ahead. Please pray for the Holy Spirit's continued presence here, and for strength and encouragement for each member of our church community.

On a personal note, I'm thrilled to share that Pastor Rick and his wife, Megan, will be visiting in November. Their upcoming visit is a huge encouragement; there's something truly special about spending time with people from home who share the same heart for this mission. I encourage anyone who feels led to consider coming on a mission trip to San Pedro de Macoris during the school year. It's a wonderful opportunity to see firsthand the work God is doing here. I'm confident you'll leave blessed, enriched, and inspired by what He's doing in this community.

In terms of logistics, now that I've received my visa, I've started the application process for residency. While there are many steps involved, I'm trusting God to smooth the way. Your prayers for a smooth, straightforward process would mean so much.

Thank you for your faithful support and prayers. You are a vital part of the work God is doing here, and I'm deeply grateful for each of you. May He continue to bless you as you partner with us in this ministry.

From My Heart:

I'm reaching out with a heart full of gratitude for each of you. Your encouragement and support have been a profound blessing, allowing me to pursue my calling to work with the Dominican people with joy and purpose. As I look toward the future, my prayer is to create an even greater impact through ministry, yet I am currently working through some financial commitments, including personal debt and the loan from mission office from my accident. My hope is to resolve these obligations as soon as I can, so I can focus more fully on serving those around me.

I am praying for opportunities, possibly an online job or tutoring position, that could help ease this financial burden, and I would be so grateful if you could join me in prayer for these openings. If you feel led to help in this matter, it would be a tremendous blessing and encouragement to me as I seek to continue following God where He leads.

Thank you for walking this path alongside me with such love and faithfulness.
