

SHORT BIOGRAPHY:

Juli Minou Bazzazi, born in 2002 in Germany, but with Iranian roots, started her career as a violinist at just five years old. As a part of a family with no musical education, she started to play the violin without much technical understanding and more by following her instincts and intuition with the goal of telling a story. This makes most of her interpretations so unique and emotional engaging.

While winning numerous competitions in her early life, she became the most well-known and successful young violinist in the region.

After a run of many competitions and solo concerts, she started to focus on relearning her instrument in technical terms and gain a professional level, which will aid her in her pursuit of taking the audience on a musical journey.

Currently she is studying at the Conservatorium Maastricht with Piotr Jasiurkowski and finished a semester abroad at the “Real Conservatorio de la Música de Madrid”, where she excelled in her violin class.

Most recently, she started her Master programme at the “Conservatorium Maastricht” and played as a soloist with smaller orchestras as the “Sinfonieorkest Helmond-Venray” and the “Sinfonisches Orchester Euskirchen”. She also stays active as an orchestra musician in projects with the “Maastricht Kamerorkest” and the “Heritage Sinfonietta”.

Nowadays, Juli Minou Bazzazi is looking forward to performing again on stage as a soloist, but also as part of orchestras and ensembles.
