Detailed Description of the Training:

1. Training Summary

This introductory training workshop guides participants through the exciting intersection of entrepreneurship and the space economy, introducing the emerging field of Astropreneurship. Participants begin by exploring how the space economy connects to life on Earth and how it creates new opportunities for innovation and business. They then learn the foundations of astropreneurial thinking — the mindset, creativity, and systems awareness that drive entrepreneurs in the space sector.

2. Training Aim

To introduce participants to Astropreneurship and help them understand how entrepreneurial thinking can be applied within the Space Economy. The workshop aims to inspire curiosity, creativity, and practical awareness of how space-related innovations can create new opportunities on Earth.

3. Learning Outcomes

By the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Explain the structure and significance of the global space economy and its emerging opportunities for entrepreneurship.
- Differentiate between traditional entrepreneurship and astropreneurship, recognizing the unique drivers and challenges of the space sector.
- Analyze how innovation, technology, and policy frameworks enable entrepreneurial activities within the space economy.
- Evaluate examples of astropreneurial ventures to identify key success factors, value creation models, and ecosystem interdependencies.
- Design a conceptual astropreneurial venture that integrates innovation, sustainability, and strategic value within the broader space economy.

4. Overview of the Training

- Welcome & Icebreaker

Participants begin with a short reflection on how space technologies (such as satellites or AI-driven exploration) already influence life on Earth. The group discusses the question: “Where does the space economy touch our daily lives?”

- Part 1: Introduction to the Space Economy

A short interactive lecture outlining the structure, sectors, and global value of the space economy — including government-led programs, private ventures, and emerging markets. Participants explore how innovation and entrepreneurship are reshaping this frontier.

- Part 2: Understanding Astropreneurship

This section introduces the concept of Astropreneurship as the intersection between innovation, entrepreneurship, and space technologies. Participants examine how entrepreneurs create value in orbit through research, or by translating space technologies for Earth-based use.

- Part 3: The Astropreneurial Mindset

Participants explore key traits of successful astropreneurs — curiosity, systems thinking, problem reframing, and visionary imagination. Through guided reflection, they identify their own astropreneurial strengths and areas for growth.

- Part 4: Challenges and Opportunities in the Space Economy

Discussion of economic, technological, and policy factors that shape the growth of astropreneurial ventures. Participants analyze real-world examples and evaluate what makes some initiatives thrive while others fail.

- Main Practical Exercise: Designing an Astropreneurial Venture Concept

In groups, participants design a conceptual venture within the space economy — such as a service, product, or policy innovation — that solves a future challenge using space technology or data. Each group outlines its value proposition, beneficiaries, and sustainability considerations, then presents its idea.

- Wrap-Up & Insights

The session concludes with reflection and group discussion on how participants can apply astropreneurial thinking within their professional or national contexts, and how Earth-based industries can benefit from space-driven innovation.
