Me as a person:

I'm a passionate and expressive person who finds fulfillment in creativity—whether that's through acting, content creation, or simply sharing real moments of life. I value authenticity, growth, and staying grounded no matter how high the platform gets.

My Likes:

Performing and embodying different characters
Good scripts and strong female roles
Exploring fashion and makeup
Connecting with my audience
Quiet moments with family and chai

My dislikes:

Superficial conversations
Lack of professionalism on set
People who underestimate women in media
Drama (unless it's on screen 😊)

What does success mean to me?

Success means making an impact through your work—when someone watches your performance and feels something, remembers it, or relates to it... that's real success to me.

My secret formula for success?

Staying consistent, choosing work that aligns with my values, and being surrounded by people who uplift and support me. Also, never losing sight of where I started and why I began.

My achievements:

Building a strong presence on social media
Appearing in TV dramas and working with amazing directors
Representing women who are bold, soft, and everything in between
Celebrating my Nikkah—one of the most meaningful chapters in my life so far

One Advice:

Trust your journey. Everyone's path looks different, and that's what makes it beautiful. Keep working, stay kind, and don't dim your light for anyone.
