CITTÀ DI
VITERBO

Viterbo is a city where nature has left a deep and generous mark. Its thermal waters, flowing and welcoming for centuries, represent one of the most authentic treasures of our territory: a natural, historical and cultural heritage that continues to express this land's enduring vocation for wellbeing.

This catalogue was created to highlight and connect the thermal offering of Viterbo, by presenting visitors with a comprehensive overview of a system that brings together health, relaxation, hospitality, and high-quality services. The thermal baths are not merely places of treatment, but spaces of experience moments of mindful pause and reconnection with time and with oneself. Promoting thermal tourism also means promoting a sustainable model of development, one that respects the territory and generates long-term value. In this perspective, Viterbo stands as a destination capable of combining history, landscape, and wellbeing, offering an authentic experience deeply rooted in its identity.

I would like to thank all the operators and professionals who, through their dedication and vision, contribute every day to make Viterbo's thermal heritage an acknowledged excellence. This catalogue is an invitation to discover, experience and return to Viterbo, a city whose identity has been shaped by its thermal waters over the centuries.

VITERBO AND THE TERRITORY OF TUSCIA

The region of Viterbo Tuscia is distinguished by a remarkable concentration of history, art, and evocative landscapes. Gentle hills, fertile valleys, volcanic lakes, and extensive woodlands shape a harmonious natural setting, within which an extraordinary heritage of medieval towns and picturesque borghi (hamlets) has been preserved. Often described as “fairy-tale” villages, these settlements are complemented by historic villas and noble residences that bear witness to centuries of local life, craftsmanship, and tradition.

Beyond its architectural legacy, the area is enriched by significant archaeological remains - including necropolises, amphitheatres, temples, and Etruscan and Roman sites - offering tangible evidence of the ancient civilizations that once flourished here. The continuous dialogue between nature, architecture, and history defines Viterbo Tuscia as a distinctive cultural landscape, where every village and every panorama tells a story spanning millennia.

At the heart of the territory stands Viterbo, the historic capital of Tuscia and its cultural focal point. The city seamlessly blends its medieval heritage with an authentic urban identity, acting as a natural gateway to the surrounding landscape and embodying the rich historical stratification that characterises the entire region.

VITERBO AND ITS OFFERINGS

Viterbo offers a multifaceted tourism experience that harmoniously blends art, history, culture, wellness, gastronomy, and the philosophy of slow tourism. Located in the heart of Tuscia and just an hour from Rome, the city retains a strong and authentic identity, where its medieval soul coexists with the rejuvenating presence of its renowned thermal waters.

Thermal baths are one of Viterbo's most distinctive assets. Its sulfurous waters, renowned since Etruscan and Roman times, continue to attract visitors seeking relaxation, balance, and physical well-being. Between historic spas and natural thermal pools nestled in the surrounding landscape, bathing becomes an immersive ritual, an experience that invites you to slow down and reconnect with the natural rhythm of the land.

Historically known as the "City of Popes", Viterbo preserves the tangible legacy of its prestigious past, particularly in the San Pellegrino neighborhood, one of the best-preserved medieval quarters in Europe. Here, cultural heritage is expressed not only through architectural monuments but also through living traditions and deeply rooted events, most notably the famous Macchina di Santa Rosa, a powerful symbol of local identity and community participation.

Viterbo is also a city designed for walking and contemplation. A key stop along the Via Francigena, one of Europe's most important pilgrimage routes, it offers travelers the opportunity to experience a pristine landscape, characterized by silence, greenery, and a profound sense of continuity between past and present.

The journey naturally culminates at the table, where the food and wine traditions of Tuscia, rooted in rural culture and seasonal produce, complete an authentic and memorable experience.

ART, HISTORY & CULTURE

ART, HISTORY & CULTURE

In Viterbo, culture is not confined to monuments—it permeates the urban fabric itself. Medieval palaces, ancient churches, enduring traditions, and museums safeguarding Etruscan treasures, sacred masterpieces, and centuries of civic legacy compose a destination of profound historical resonance. Exploring its landmarks means stepping into the very essence of Tusciana, where history and spirituality converge in a setting of rare intensity and authenticity.

- National Etruscan Archaeological Museum of Rocca Alborno: Housed within a medieval fortress, the museum showcases significant Etruscan and Roman artefacts that reveal the ancient roots of the territory. A concise yet powerful introduction to the region's pre-Roman heritage.
- Colle del Duomo Monumental Complex: The Palace of the Popes and the Cathedral of San Lorenzo form one of central Italy's most remarkable ecclesiastical ensembles. Sacred art, architecture and relics narrate centuries of spiritual and institutional history.
- Palazzo dei Priori & Museo dei Portici: The frescoed halls of the 16th-century Palazzo dei Priori provide an evocative setting for the Museo dei Portici, whose collection includes works attributed to Sebastiano del Piombo alongside other distinguished artists, reflecting the city's refined artistic patronage.
- Civic Museum: Offering a comprehensive overview of Viterbo's artistic and archaeological development, the Civic Museum traces the city's evolution from the Middle Ages to the modern era, revealing the layers of history that continue to shape its identity.
- Tusciana Ceramic Museum: A celebration of centuries-old craftsmanship, the museum honours the region's ceramic tradition, presenting both historical pieces and insights into the technical mastery and aesthetic refinement that define local production.
- Museum of the Sodalizio dei Facchini di Santa Rosa: Dedicated to one of Italy's most extraordinary expressions of intangible cultural heritage—the historic Transport of the Macchina di Santa Rosa—the museum preserves the memory, devotion, and communal spirit behind this UNESCO-recognised event.
- Teatro dell'Unione: An elegant 19th-century theatre that continues to animate the city's cultural life, hosting performances, concerts, and artistic programming throughout the year.
- Shrine of Santa Rosa: A deeply revered place of devotion, intrinsically linked to the city's patron saint and to the spiritual identity that continues to define Viterbo.

SLOW TOURISM & WALKING ROUTES

SLOW TOURISM & WALKING ROUTES

The territory of Viterbo and the Tuscia region naturally lends itself to the development of slow tourism and walking experiences, providing an ideal setting for sustainable, authentic journeys in close connection with the land.

A rich network of historic, spiritual, and nature-based itineraries allows visitors to discover the area's cultural and landscape heritage at a relaxed pace, enhancing medieval villages, rural landscapes, woodlands, lakes, and archaeological sites. Viterbo is a key stop along the Via Francigena, one of Europe's most important pilgrimage routes, and stands at the heart of thematic paths such as the Cammino dei Papi, connected to the period when the city served as the Papal Seat, and the Cammino di San Bonaventura, which traverses places of profound spiritual and cultural significance.

Alongside these established routes, an extensive network of local trails and circular paths makes it possible to design flexible experiences suited to different target groups and levels of difficulty.

THE THERMAL EXPERIENCE IN VITERBO

THE PROPERTIES OF THE WATERS

Viterbo is one of Lazio's most appealing destinations for those seeking relaxation, wellness, and an authentic connection with nature. Its unique thermal landscape is shaped by powerful natural springs, where waters flow at temperatures of up to 65 °C and are naturally enriched with sulfur, bicarbonate, calcium, and magnesium. This exceptional mineral composition makes Viterbo's thermal waters ideal for a wide range of wellness experiences and therapeutic treatments, offering a harmonious blend of physical care and profound sensory balance

Musculoskeletal system – Thermal baths and therapeutic muds help alleviate joint and muscle discomfort, including rheumatism, arthritis, and stiffness, supporting mobility, muscle relaxation, and overall physical comfort.

Respiratory system – Inhalations, vapours, and natural aerosols contribute to improve respiratory function and are traditionally used to support conditions such as sinusitis, chronic rhinitis, asthma, and airway congestion.

Skin and dermatological well-being – Thanks to their sulphurous and mineral-rich composition, the waters are known for their anti-inflammatory and regenerating properties, supporting the treatment of psoriasis, eczema, acne, dermatitis, and various skin irritations.

Circulatory system – The combined action of heat and minerals stimulates peripheral circulation, helping to alleviate venous disorders such as ulcers and thrombophlebitis, while promoting improved tissue health.

Overall well-being – Thermal baths, mud treatments, and hydromassages encourage deep relaxation, stress reduction, detoxification, and cellular regeneration, fostering a state of holistic psychophysical balance.

Thermal experiences in Viterbo range from free, natural hot springs set within the surrounding countryside to fully equipped spa resorts offering accommodation, curated wellness pathways, and therapeutic treatments, ideal settings for restoring both body and mind.
