

A PRONGHORN PRODUCTIONS FILM

DOG WARS

LIFE AND DEATH IN A PRAIRIE DOG TOWN

Directed and Written by Daniel Licht.

Narrated by Katie Flamman.

Soundtrack by Andi Licht.

DOG WARS: LIFE AND DEATH IN A PRAIRIE DOG TOWN

Running Time: 45 minutes

Resolution: high definition

Directed By: Daniel Licht

Written By: Daniel Licht

Narrated By: Katie Flamman

Soundtrack: Andi Licht

Production Company: Pronghorn Productions

Location: North & South Dakota, Colorado USA

Year: 2025

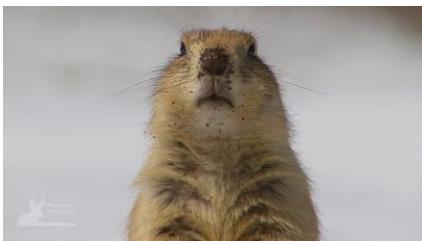

LOGLINE

From playful pups to fierce battles, prairie dogs shape their world—feeding bison, sheltering owls, and outwitting predators—in a drama as complex as any human city.

SYNOPSIS

On the grasslands of North America, prairie dogs live at the center of an intricate web of life. Born in underground burrows, cute pups emerge into a world of play—and peril, with coyotes, bobcats, badgers, and eagles on the hunt. Yet prairie dogs are more than prey. Their sophisticated language warns of danger, their grazing shapes the land, and their presence sustains bison, pronghorn, and birds. Through harsh winters, verdant springs, and fierce breeding battles, this film reveals the hidden drama of their survival. In every bark, the fate of the prairie is written.

TAGLINE: Small creatures, fierce battles—the prairie's fate rests in their paws.

Director, Daniel Licht

Dan has twenty years in the wildlife film industry with over $2 million in stock-footage sales. He is the owner of Pronghorn Productions. In a former life he was a professional biologist.
president@pronghornproductions.com

Narrator, Katie Flamman

An award-winning voiceover artist, Katie brings excitement, passion, gravitas, and suspense. She guides the viewer expertly, creating trust and credibility, letting the narrative breathe as the story unfolds.

katie@katieflamman.co.uk

Soundtrack, Andi Licht

Andi is both a composer and performer of a wide variety of music, using both traditional and digital instruments. She has training from Evergreen college in sound and acoustic engineering.

alicht5@gmail.com

Keystones: Nature's Most Important Species

The film is part of a nature series that explores the plants and animals that hold ecosystems together. Season 1 begins with Dog Wars - Life and Death in a Prairie Dog Town, where underground burrows, complex social bonds, and relentless predators key the prairie dog's role as both prey and provider. Giants of the Sonoran centers around the iconic saguaro cactus, a towering giant that offers food, shelter, and nesting sites to birds, mammals, and reptiles. In Bison - Feel the Thunder, America's national mammal endures blizzards, predators, and competitors, maintaining the fragile grasslands for a host of wildlife; but what about its own future?

Together, these stories highlight nature's intricate balance—and hint at what is lost when keystone species vanish. Season 2 promises more keystone tales to come.

Dog Wars

Life and Death in a
Prairie Dog Town

Giants of the Sonoran

Bison

Feel the Thunder

