Honoring George Parris

This past fall, longtime Elsinboro Township Employee George Parris went home to be with the lord. George Parris and his wife Pearl have lived in Elsinboro since 1985 where they raised their 2 boys George and Sam.

George served Elsinboro Township for over 20 years in various roles, most famously as the Elsinboro Township Emergency Management Coordinator. In his role, he led Elsinboro Township through many emergencies, including hurricanes, flooding, snow storms, road closures, trees down and numerous other events. George brought Elsinboro Township's Emergency Management Office to a new level with his knowledge and professionalism. He successfully led the Emergency Management Team through training exercises, state and federally graded drills, and hazard mitigation planning.

In addition, George was a valued member of the Elsinboro Township Planning Board. George was a valuable resource for the Elsinboro Fire Company and all of the residents of Elsinboro Township.

In a show of gratitude, Mr. Parris was presented a resolution of honor and gratitude from Elsinboro Township and made an honorary member of the fire company by Elsinboro Fire Company members.

South Locust Avenue

The South Locust Avenue project is now complete. Elsinboro Township received funding for the resurfacing of South Locust Avenue. The funding came in the form of two grants, which meant the project needed to be completed in two phases. Phase 1 was completed at the southern end in the Spring, while Phase 2 was just recently completed. Elsinboro Township continues to submit grant applications annually to maintain the municipal roads.

Proper Medicine Disposal

Unused medications that remain in medicine cabinets are highly susceptible to theft and misuse. To avoid this, simply bring your unused household prescriptions and over-the-counter medications to a drop box location.

The local drop box location is the Lower Alloways Creek Township Police Department, 501 Locust Island Road, Hancock's Bridge.
