We work with controlled manufacturing partners and standardized processes, allowing us to adapt materials, specifications and production volumes to each project's operational needs, timelines and brand standards.

From initial development to final delivery, we ensure traceability, quality consistency and efficient replenishment, supporting long-term partnerships and scalable global supply.

Product Development Process

Our product development process is structured to transform project requirements into reliable, production-ready solutions for hospitality and corporate environments.

We define technical specifications based on usage conditions, performance requirements, brand guidelines and budget parameters. Materials, constructions and finishes are selected to ensure durability, consistency and operational suitability.

Sampling and prototyping validate design, functionality and quality before production approval. Once confirmed, manufacturing is managed with controlled partners to ensure scalability, consistent quality and lead-time reliability.

This integrated approach allows us to deliver products that meet real operational demands while supporting long-term supply programs and efficient replenishment.

Sampling & Quality Control

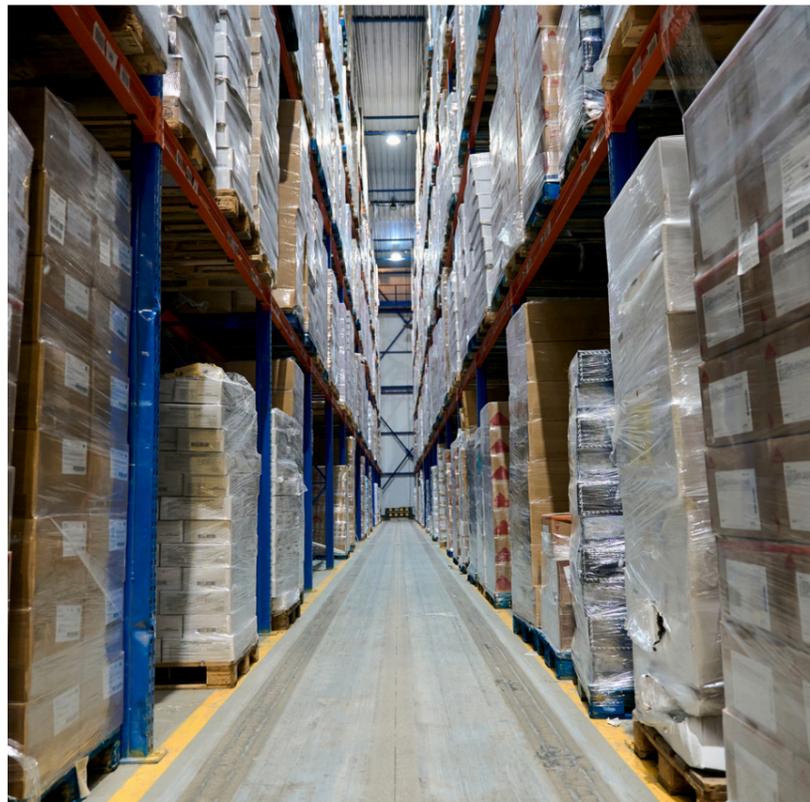

The sampling stage is a crucial step in our process to validate materials, construction, finishes and functionality prior to production. Pre-production samples are used to confirm specifications, performance standards and visual consistency according to project requirements. Production advances are provided free of charge once the order is confirmed.

Quality control is applied at different production stages, including material inspection, in-line controls and final checks, ensuring durability, consistency and compliance with approved samples. We operate in accordance with international quality standards and regulatory requirements, integrating documentation, testing protocols and traceability to minimize risk and ensure reliable delivery.

Logistics & Global Supply

We manage global logistics and supply operations to ensure reliable delivery across multiple markets and project scales. Our logistics structure covers consolidation, international shipping, customs coordination and final delivery, adapting transport methods and routes according to timelines, destinations and product requirements.

We work with controlled logistics partners and defined procedures to ensure traceability, delivery consistency and cost efficiency throughout the supply chain. This approach allows us to support phased projects, recurring replenishment programs and multi-location rollouts while maintaining lead-time control and operational continuity for our clients.

Sustainability

Sustainability is integrated into our manufacturing approach through responsible material selection, efficient production processes and long-term supplier partnerships. We work with certified materials and controlled manufacturing standards to reduce environmental impact while maintaining consistent quality and performance.

Our focus is on durability, optimized resource use and scalable solutions that support responsible sourcing across hospitality and corporate projects. Where required, we align production with applicable international standards, documentation and compliance frameworks to ensure transparency and traceability throughout the supply chain.
