BTAN LLC — Legal Notice and Liability Disclaimer

This Chemical Safety Book is provided by BTAN LLC to document chemical safety information, product hazards, and safe-use procedures related to the cosmetic sunless tanning products used in business operations. All information is compiled from manufacturers provided Safety Data Sheets, industry-standard safety practices, and BTAN LLC protocols.

BTAN LLC makes no warranties regarding the completeness or accuracy of the information contained in this Manual. Chemical manufacturers remain solely responsible for the accuracy of their SDS documents.

All employees, contractors, and assistants are required to follow the safety instructions, warnings, and handling procedures provided by the chemical manufacturer and reproduced within this Manual. Failure to follow these instructions voids liability protections.

To the fullest extent permitted by law in all 50 U.S. states, BTAN LLC shall not be held liable for misuse, mishandling, improper storage, failure to follow SDS instructions, allergic reactions, third-party negligence, unauthorized product substitution, or any incidental or consequential damages arising from chemical exposure.

Clients acknowledge that sunless tanning products may cause irritation in sensitive individuals, and that protective measures are recommended. Clients with respiratory conditions, pregnancy, or known sensitivities should consult a physician before receiving services.
