

Giggle Sprout's Big Garden Adventure

A Mini Mini Story by Skipper-Bloo

Giggle Sprout carefully peeked out from behind a big red tomato. A few feet away, a chubby, short-legged sausage dog sniffed about with his big pink nose.

The dog, named Skipper-Bloo, was sure he could smell his favorite snack somewhere.

Could that be a plump, green brussel sprout nearby?

“Shoo! Shoo! Skipper-Bloo!” squealed Giggle Sprout as he darted across the soft soil.

He zigzagged past startled snails, tumbled over tiny pebbles, and wobbled around fallen petals.

The dachshund chased, tail wagging and nose twitching, but Giggle Sprout was too clever, too fast, and just too sneaky.

With one last giggle, he dove under a pile of marigold leaves.

Giggle Sprout popped his little head out and laughed.

“Whoohoo!” he cheered. What a close call.

He got back up, plopped a marigold on his head, and dashed off to his next adventure!
