With over a decade of experience as a motion and graphic designer in major Korean broadcasting networks, I developed a comprehensive practice across art direction, opening sequences, title design, brand identity, and on-air channel design. After transitioning into freelance work, I focused on selected design collaborations while continuing to refine my visual sensibility and maintain a consistent creative practice.

Since relocating to the Netherlands in 2020, I have adapted to a new cultural environment while studying the Dutch language and obtaining the Inburgering diploma. Throughout this period, I also expanded my artistic interests in sound and performance. Now, I am re-entering the design field with a renewed perspective, combining my broadcast-design foundation with a sharpened and thoughtfully developed creative approach.
