Law Office of Alan Sakowitz

Thank you for visiting the website of the Law Office of Alan Sakowitz. This website and any newsletters, email communications, or other publications distributed by my office has been prepared for informational purposes only and may be considered attorney advertising under applicable rules of professional conduct. The information and materials contained on this website or in my newsletters do not constitute legal advice, nor do they create an attorney-client relationship. Please review this disclaimer carefully before using this website, subscribing to our newsletter, or contacting our office, as your use of this website or subscription to our newsletter constitutes your acceptance of and agreement to these terms.

No Attorney-Client Relationship. Your use of this website, including any communication through email, contact forms, or other electronic means, does not create an attorney-client relationship between you and the Law Office of Alan Sakowitz. This website has been prepared for informational purposes only, and there is no effort or intention to solicit new clients or new engagements by means of this website. An attorney-client relationship can only be established through a formal, written engagement agreement executed after I have conducted appropriate conflicts checks and mutually agreed to the terms of representation. Until such time as a written engagement agreement has been executed, I am not your attorney, you are not my client, and I owe you no duties or obligations beyond those owed to the general public.

I am under no obligation to accept you as a client, and the decision to undertake representation is made at my sole discretion. Please do not send me any confidential, proprietary, or sensitive information until an attorney-client relationship has been formally established through a written engagement agreement. Any information you transmit to me through this website, whether by email, contact form, or otherwise, will not be treated as confidential or privileged, will not be protected by the attorney-client privilege, and may be disclosed to others. Without an express written agreement to represent you in a particular matter, I cannot and will not treat unsolicited information as confidential, and such transmission does not prevent me from representing parties adverse to you in the same or related matters. I may be unable to represent you due to conflicts of interest, capacity constraints, jurisdictional limitations, or other professional considerations.

Information Provided Is Not Legal Advice. The content on this website and in any newsletters, bulletins, alerts, or other publications distributed by my office is provided solely for general informational purposes and is not intended to be, and should not be construed as, legal advice, legal opinion, or legal counseling applicable to any particular factual or legal matter. The law is complex, highly fact-specific, and subject to constant change through legislation, regulation, and judicial decision. The information provided on this website or in my newsletters may not reflect the most current legal developments, verdicts, settlements, or statutory amendments. Legal principles and their application vary significantly by jurisdiction, and what may be applicable in one jurisdiction or factual scenario may be wholly inapplicable in another. No information on this website or in my newsletters should be relied upon as a substitute for individualized legal advice from a qualified attorney licensed in your jurisdiction who has been retained to represent you and who is familiar with the specific facts and circumstances of your matter.

You should not act, delay acting, or refrain from acting based upon any information contained on this website or in my newsletters without first consulting with a qualified attorney regarding your specific circumstances. Every legal matter presents unique facts, circumstances, and applicable legal principles that require individualized analysis. Reliance on general information found on this website or in my newsletters, without obtaining specific legal advice tailored to your situation, may result in adverse legal consequences for which I disclaim any and all responsibility.

No Guarantee of Results. Nothing on this website should be construed as a guarantee, warranty, promise, or prediction regarding the outcome of any legal matter. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome, and no representation is made that similar results can or will be obtained in any future matter. Any description of case results, verdicts, settlements, or other outcomes referenced on this website pertains to unique factual circumstances and should not be considered indicative of future results. The outcome of any legal matter depends upon numerous variables unique to each case, including but not limited to the specific facts, the applicable substantive and procedural law, the jurisdiction and venue, the quality of evidence, the credibility of witnesses, the conduct of opposing parties and counsel, judicial determinations, and other factors beyond my control. No attorney can guarantee a particular result, and we expressly disclaim any such guarantee.

Jurisdiction. Any claims or suits arising out of or relating to this website, my newsletters, or any content contained therein shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts located in Miami, Florida. This disclaimer may be modified from time to time. For more information contact alan@SakowitzLaw.com
