Italian Construction Excellence

3 Noble Alloys

Exclusively crafted with Steel, Brass, and Copper to ensure maximum quality and durability

Italian Craftsmanship

Each unit is handcrafted and assembled by our Italian company with decades of experience

Lifetime Warranty

Designed to last, it comes with a lifetime warranty that attests to its manufacturing quality

The Three Revolutionary Functions of IWS

The IWS system transforms water through an innovative three-step process, each designed to improve the specific characteristics of tap water.

01

Calcium Transformation

It transforms calcium carbonate into aragonite, reducing scale and preventing the formation of kidney stones. It protects plumbing and health.

02

Memory Restoration

It erases the memories acquired by water during its long underground journey, restoring the water's original memory and its natural purity.

03

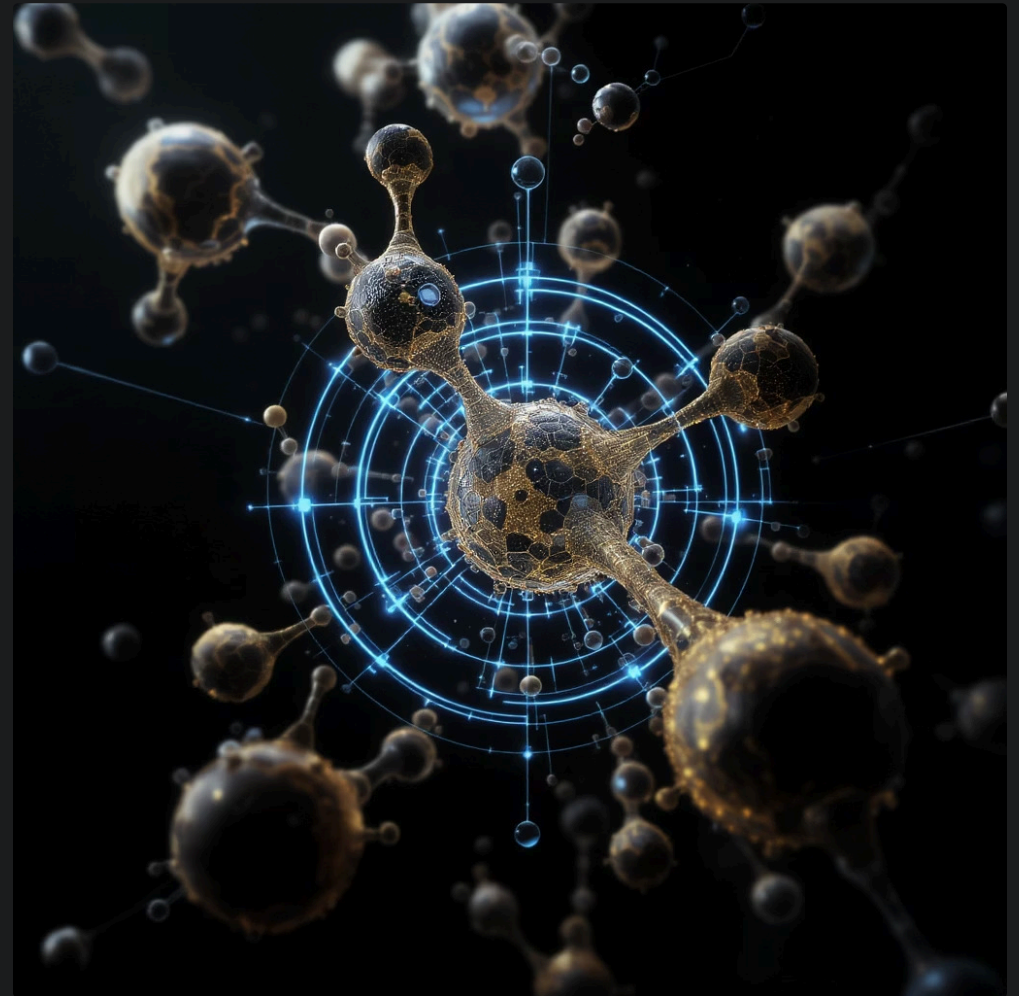

Energetic Charge

The water is charged with vital energy, bringing it to a higher energetic level than normally filtered water.

Magnetic Technology: From Calcium to Aragonite

How does the transformation work?

Thanks to low-frequency permanent magnets, a magnetic field is generated that interacts with the calcium carbonate present in the water. This magnetic field pulverizes the calcium, transforming it into aragonite, a completely different crystalline form.

Concrete Benefits for Your Home

Scale Reduction

Aragonite tends not to adhere to surfaces like traditional limescale, significantly reducing the accumulation of deposits on plumbing and appliances.

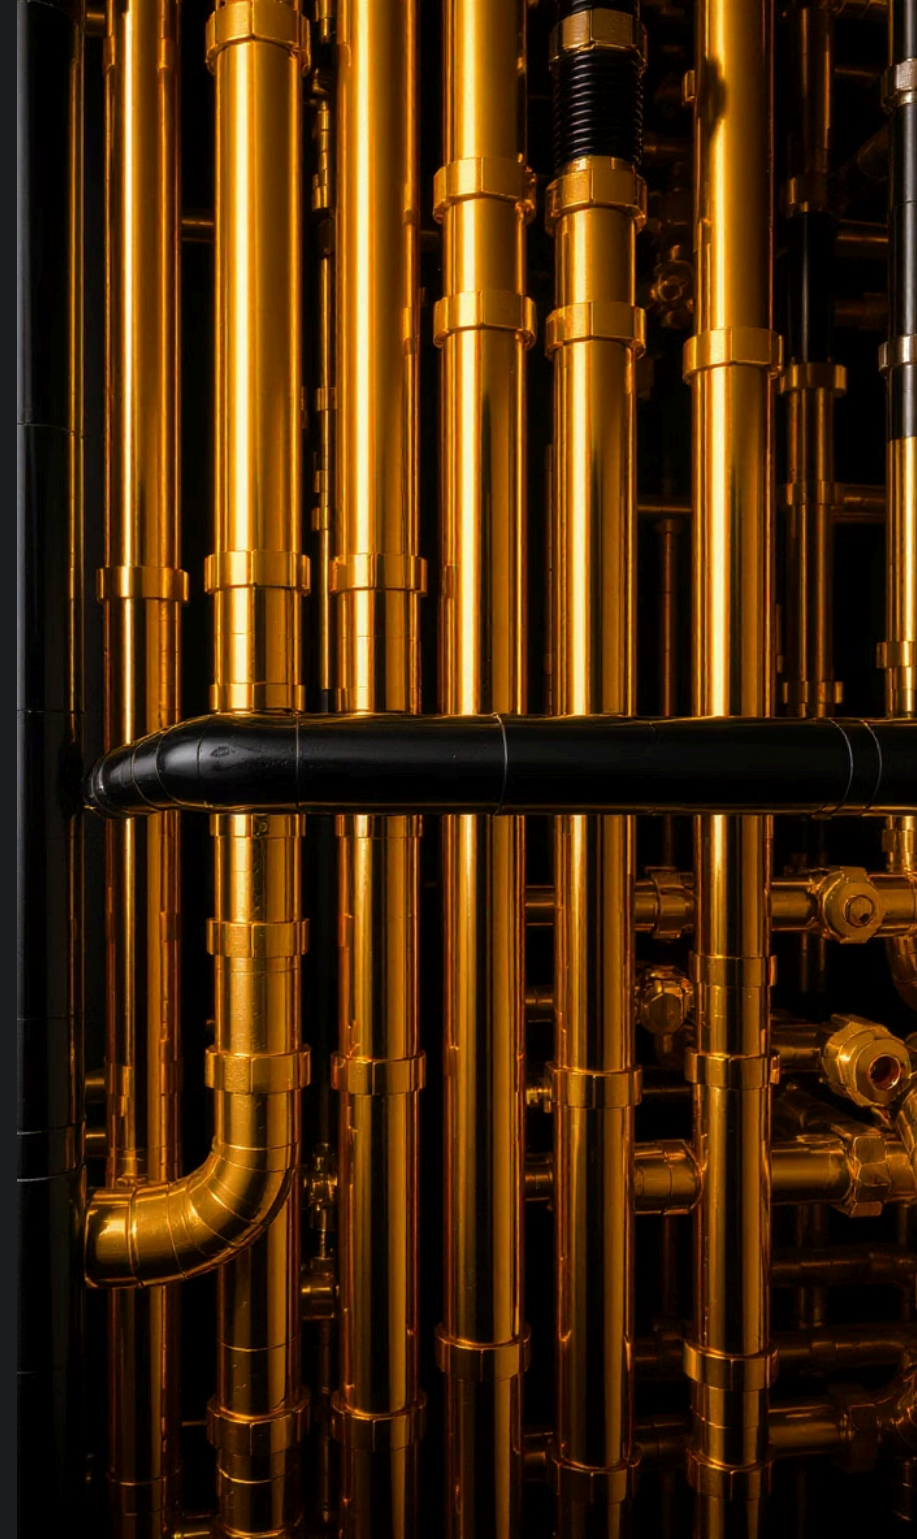

Extended Appliance Lifespan

Boilers and plumbing last longer and require less maintenance, as they are less susceptible to limescale damage.

Financial Savings

Less need for maintenance interventions and replacement of installations, leading to long-term economic benefits.

The Difference is Visible

Calcium

Traditional form that creates harmful scale for pipes and appliances

Aragonite

Pulverized form that does not adhere to surfaces, protecting your installation

A Generational Investment

Sustainable Benefits

One of the extraordinary aspects of IWS is that it continues to offer lifelong benefits. It is a generational product, a precious asset to pass on to your children.

A Responsible Choice for Well-being

It increases the energetic value of water, producing beneficial effects on health, profoundly influencing the well-being and vitality of you and your family.

The Three Pillars of Your Well-being

Health and Vitality

Energized water for your daily well-being and that of your whole family

Generational Value

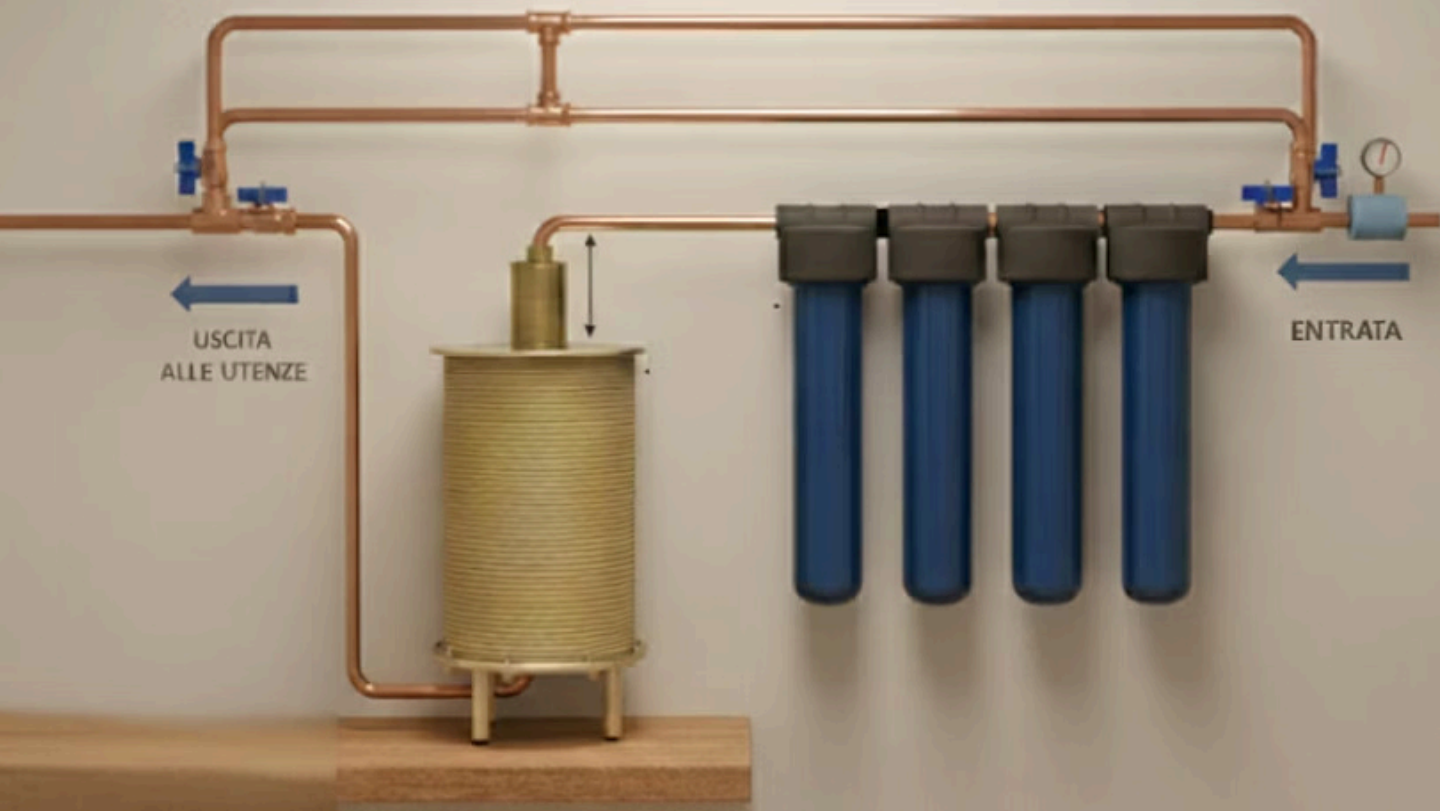

A legacy to pass on to your children, an investment that lasts over time

Sustainability

Respect for the environment and natural resources for a better future
