

Hangar Removal Plans

North Las Vegas Airport (KVGT) has plans to remove some smaller hangars once their leases expire, in part to facilitate runway expansion projects. However, the airport is aware of the potential for reduced hangar space and is considering new options, as there is a waiting list for more than 100 aircraft owners. The airport is owned and operated by the Clark County Department of Aviation. [1, 2, 3]

Key points:

- Runway Expansion: North Las Vegas Airport is planning to expand its runways and taxiways, which includes removing some smaller hangars. [2]
- Hangar Availability: The airport is aware of the potential for reduced hangar space and is considering options for new hangar construction to accommodate the waiting list. [2]
- Department of Aviation: The Clark County Department of Aviation oversees North Las Vegas Airport. [3]
- Tenant Support: vgt.aero provides tenant support services for aircraft owners, including Tie-Down and Shade Hangar Agreements, and insurance requirements. [1]
- Waiting List: There is a waiting list of over 100 aircraft owners seeking hangar space at the airport. [2]

[1] <https://www.vgt.aero/Tenantsupport>

[2] <https://www.ainonline.com/aviation-news/business-aviation/2024-04-04/north-las-vegas-airport-mulls-runway-expansions>

[3] <https://news.harryreidairport.com/north-las-vegas-airport-records-200k-flight-ops-in-2024/>

