Dear candidate,

You have been accepted to the International Experience Canada pool(s)

You have been accepted to the International Experience Canada pool(s) of candidates.

In your account, you can review the following information:

- the categories for which you are eligible
- your International Experience Canada profile number
- the date you became a candidate for International Experience Canada

What happens next

We will regularly invite candidates from the pools to apply for a work permit through one of Canada's International Experience Canada categories. You must receive an invitation from Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) before you can apply for a work permit under the International Experience Canada program.

WARNING: If we invite you to apply for a work permit, you may need to show proof of the information you gave us in your International Experience Canada profile. Your application will be refused if the information in your profile is not true or cannot be verified.

If we find that you misrepresented yourself (gave us false information or left out important details), we will refuse your application. You could also:

- be barred from entering Canada for at least five years
- have a permanent record of fraud with IRCC, or
- be charged with a crime

Get your documents ready now

If you receive an invitation to apply, you will have a limited time to start and submit your work permit application. You will receive a letter providing the deadlines. If you do not meet these timelines, your invitation will be automatically declined.

Some documents (for example, police certificates) may be hard to get. You should start trying to get these documents right away, so that you can apply on time.

Find out more about the documents you will need to submit if you are invited.
