WELCOME TO UV COATING SUAR TABLE

A Suar Wood slab table is a solid wood table made from a single slab of Suar wood, known for its unique natural grain patterns, striking contrast between heartwood and sapwood, and exceptional durability. This table is often used in interior designs with natural, rustic, or industrial styles, featuring a finish that enhances the wood's natural character. Available in various sizes and thicknesses, Suar slab tables are perfect for dining tables, work desks, or coffee tables. They are often paired with metal or wooden legs to create an elegant and modern aesthetic.

UV coating on a tabletop is an ultraviolet-based protective layer applied to the surface to enhance resistance against scratches, and stains. This coating provides extra protection against color fading caused by UV rays and extends the wood's lifespan by reducing the risk of cracking or wear. UV coating enhancing the table's aesthetics while preserving the natural beauty of the wood grain.
