A holistic experience

Before coming on the retreat we will go through an interview process with you which will include finding out about your intentions, goals, whether you can meet the diet requirements, any medications and health issues.

Sunni will also tune in to give you individual exercises, suggestions and a meditation just for you to listen throughout the retreat and beyond.

The retreat is aimed to take you deep in a safe secure space and provide you with the support you need to do this before, during and after.
