

A Siren's Shine

Frequently Asked Questions

Is this a sex service?

No.

This is a visual, non-touch service rooted in sensuality, not sex. I clean your home while wearing lingerie, but I am not an escort, nor does this experience include any physical interaction. Respect is not optional—it's the foundation.

Do you actually clean?

Yes, very well.

I used to run a traditional cleaning company. What you get now is the same professional skill, elevated into an unforgettable experience. I clean thoroughly—kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms, floors, laundry, organizing—and I focus on what you want prioritized.

Can I touch you?

Absolutely not.

No touching, no asking, no testing boundaries. I show up in lingerie, but this is a strictly hands-off experience. A security presence is always there for everyone's safety.

Can I make a special request?

If it's within reason and respectful, yes.

Want me folding laundry with soft music on?

Want to watch me scrub your kitchen in heels?

Request away! But anything outside the realm of what's listed—or that crosses the line—won't be entertained.

What do you wear?

Whatever fits my Goddess vibe of the day. I never wear anything overtly explicit, and nudity is never part of the service.

What's the rate?

- $200 per hour
- 2-hour minimum per booking
- Travel outside San Antonio is available at $50/hour (one-way)
- Payment is due in full at the time of booking confirmation

What tasks do you offer?

- Deep cleaning (kitchen, bathroom, floors, etc.)
- Dishes, laundry folding, bed-making
- Closet or pantry organization
- Light errands or home resets
- Lifestyle concierge tasks (ask ahead)

If you want to watch me do it, and it's respectful, I'm open.

Where do you offer services?

I'm based in San Antonio, Texas.

I also travel to nearby areas like Austin or Houston with an additional travel fee. If you're not sure, just ask—I go where the shine is needed.

Is my privacy protected?

Always.

Your information and discretion are sacred. I don't share, post, or discuss clients publicly—ever.

What happens if I break the rules?

You lose the privilege.

Any boundary pushing, suggestive comments, or disrespect ends the session immediately with no refund. Repeat after me: This is a luxury service. Not a loophole.

Still curious?

Good. Fill out the booking form and let's make your space—and your day—a little more exciting!
